ANNEXURE II TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF AUTO DIGITECH PRIVATE LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Auto Digitech Private Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the Company for year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that operate effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Significant Accounting Policies

1) Corporate Information

Mahindra Punjab Tractors Private Limited was incorporated in the financial year 2009-10 under the Companies Act, 1956.

With effect from January 22, 2016, the name of the Company was changed from 'Mahindra Punjab Tractors Private Limited' to 'Auto Digitech Private Limited'.

The Company is 100% subsidiary of Mahindra First Choice Services Limited (MFCSL), which is a subsidiary of Mahindra Holdings Limited, for carrying on an e-commerce activity including developing and operating the e-commerce website to act as an online platform for marketing and sale of spare parts and servicing of vehicles. This transfer has been effected on April 29, 2016.

The portal will be one of a kind in industry 'Diagnostic Tool & Service Cost Estimator' wherein the inherent knowledge/strength of the MFCSL viz; Service diagnosis, Multi-brand Parts Catalogue and Multi-brand Labour Catalogue would be put to use.

2) Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Ind ASs notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015. The date of transition to Ind AS is 1 April 2015.

a) Basis of accounting and preparation of financial statements

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share based payment transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 102, leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in Ind AS 2 on inventories or value in use in Ind AS 36 impairment of assets.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

(i) Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;

(ii) Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and

(iii) Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

b) Property, plant and equipment:

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less depreciation and impairment losses. Costs comprise purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use and other incidental expenses directly attributable to acquisition of assets up to the date the asset is ready for its intended use.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of assets (other than freehold land) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Estimated useful lives of the assets are given below

Plant and Machinery
– Machinery	10 Years
– Electrical equipments and tools	06 Years
– Mobile handsets	02 Years
– Barcode system & equipment	05 Years

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

c) Intangible assets:

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Useful lives of intangible assets
Software are amortised over a period of three years on Straight line Method.

Derecognition of intangible assets
An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Intangible assets under development
Expenditure on research and development eligible for capitalisation are carried as Intangible assets under development where such assets are not yet ready for their intended use.

d) Impairment of tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill:

The carrying amounts of tangible and intangible assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date if there is any indication of impairment based on internal/external factors. Impairment loss is provided to the extent the carrying amounts of assets exceed their recoverable amount. The impairment loss is recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss, unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case any impairment loss of the revalued asset is treated as a revaluation decrease to the extent a revaluation reserve is available for that asset. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Net selling price is the amount obtainable from the sale of an asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, less the cost of disposal.

e) Inventories:

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value after providing for obsolescence and other losses, where considered necessary. Cost includes all charges in bringing the goods to the point of sale, including octroi, freight and other levies. Cost is arrived at on weighted average basis. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

All amounts are in INR unless otherwise stated

f) Revenue recognition:

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue is reduced for estimated customer returns, rebates and other similar allowances.

Sale of goods:

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the goods are delivered and titles have passed, at which time all the following conditions are satisfied:

(i) the Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;

(ii) the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;

(iii) the amount of revenue can be measured reliably;

(iv) it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; and

(v) the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Income from services:

Income from services is recognised when services are rendered and related costs are incurred.

g) Dividend and interest income:

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably).

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably.

h) Employee Benefits:

Employee benefits include provident fund, superannuation fund, employee state insurance scheme, gratuity fund, compensated absences and post employment medical benefits.

1. Short term employee benefits:

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees are recognised during the year when the employees render the service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service.

The cost of short-term compensated absences is accounted as under:

a. in case of accumulated compensated absences, when employees render the services that increase their entitlement of future compensated absences; and

b. in case of non-accumulating compensated absences, when the absences occur.

2. Long term benefits

I. Defined contribution plan

The Company's contribution to provident fund, superannuation fund and employee state insurance scheme are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made and when services are rendered by the employees.

i. Provident and family pension fund

The eligible employees of the Company are entitled to receive post-employment benefits in respect of provident and family pension fund, in which both employees and the Company make monthly contributions at a specified percentage of the employees' eligible salary (currently 12% of employees' eligible salary). The contributions are made to Regional Provident Fund Commissioner. Provident Fund and Family Pension Fund are classified as Defined Contribution Plans as the Company has no further obligations beyond making the contribution. The Company's contribution to Defined Contribution Plans is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

ii. Superannuation

The eligible employees of the Company are entitled to receive post-employment benefits in respect of superannuation fund in which the Company makes yearly contribution at a specified percentage of the employees' eligible salary (currently 15% of employees' eligible salary). The contributions are made to the Life Insurance Corporation of India. Superannuation is classified as Defined Contribution Plan as the Company has no further obligations beyond making the contribution. The Company's contribution to Defined Contribution Plans are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

b. Defined benefit plan

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity fund, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Remeasurement recognised in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained earnings and is not reclassified to profit or loss. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the schemes.

i. Gratuity

The Company has an obligation towards gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan covering eligible employees. The plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment of an amount equivalent to 15 days salary payable for each completed year of service or part thereof in excess of six months. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service. The Company accounts for gratuity benefits payable in future based on an independent actuarial valuation. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

ii. Compensated absences

The Company provides for encashment of leave or leave with pay subject to certain rules. The employees are entitled to accumulate leave subject to certain limits, for future encashment/availment.

All amounts are in INR unless otherwise stated

The liability is provided based on the number of days of unutilised leave at each Balance Sheet date on the basis of an independent actuarial valuation.

i) Taxes on income:

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of the Income tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws. The Companies current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

j) Provisions and contingencies:

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

Onerous contracts

Present obligations arising under onerous contracts are recognised and measured as provisions. An onerous contract is considered to exist where the Company has a contract under which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received from the contract.

k) Leases:

The Company as lessee

Rental expense from operating leases is generally recognised as per agreement over the term of the relevant lease. Where the rentals are structured solely to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases, such increases are recognised in the year in which such benefits accrue. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

l) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

m) Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace. All recognised financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at either amortised cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

Financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value.

A financial asset is held for trading if:

(i) it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling it in the near term; or

(ii) on initial recognition it is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short term profit taking; or

(iii) it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument or a financial guarantee

Dividends on these investments in equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Company's right to receive the dividends is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the entity, the dividend does not represent a recovery of part of cost of the investment and the amount of dividend can be measured reliably.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company applies the expected credit loss model for recognising impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost, debt instruments at FVTOCI, lease receivables, trade receivables, other contractual rights to receive cash or other financial asset, and financial guarantees not designated as at FVTPL.

Expected credit losses are the weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. Credit loss is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive (i.e. all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate (or credit-adjusted effective interest rate for purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets). The Company estimates cash flows by considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) through the expected life of that financial instrument.

For trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset that result from transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 11 and Ind AS 18, the Company always measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party. If the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Company recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay.

n) Financial liabilities and equity instruments

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a Company entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method or at FVTPL.

Financial liabilities subsequently measured at amortised cost

Financial liabilities that are not held-for-trading and are not designated as at FVTPL are measured at amortised cost at the end of subsequent accounting periods. The carrying amounts of financial liabilities that are subsequently measured at amortised cost are determined based on the effective interest method. Interest expense that is not capitalised as part of costs of an asset is included in the 'Finance costs' line item.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. An exchange between with a lender of debt instruments with substantially different terms is accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and the recognition of a new financial liability. Similarly, a substantial modification of the terms of an existing financial liability (whether or not attributable to the financial difficulty of the debtor) is accounted for as an extinguishment of the original financial liability and the recognition of a new financial liability. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

o) Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2, the management is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below:

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment has been provided on the straight-line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed as under based on technical evaluation, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers warranties and maintenance support, etc.:

Sr. No	Category of assets	Life

	- Machinery	10 Years
	- Electrical equipments and tools	6 Years
	- Mobile handsets	2 Years

(ii)	Furniture and fittings - movable in nature	6 Years
(iii)	Vehicles	6 Years and 8 months

3) Recent accounting pronouncements

Standards issued but not yet effective

In March 2018, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs issued the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) (Amendments) Rules, 2018, notifying Ind AS 115 - 'Revenue from Contracts with Customers' and consequential amendments to various Ind AS standards. The amended Rules also notified amendments to Ind AS 12 - 'Income Taxes', Ind AS 21 - 'The Effect of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates', Ind AS 28 - 'Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures' and Ind AS 40 - 'Investment Property'. These amendments are in accordance with the recent amendments made by International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). The amendments are effective from accounting periods beginning from 1st April, 2018.

Ind AS 115 – 'Revenue from Contracts with Customers':

This standard establishes a single comprehensive model for accounting of revenue arising from contracts with customers. Ind AS 115 will supersede the current revenue recognition guidance under Ind AS 11 Construction Contracts and Ind AS 18 Revenue. The Company is currently assessing the impact of application of Ind AS 115 on Company's financial statements.

Note No. 24 - Employee benefits

(a) Defined contribution plan:

Company's contribution to provident and other funds Rs 783,683 (Previous year Rs 222,551) has been recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss under Employee benefits expense.

(b) Defined benefit plan:

Gratuity:

The Company has an obligation towards gratuity. A defined benefit retirement plan covering eligible employees provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment of an amount equivalent to 15 days salary payable for each completed year of service or part thereof in excess of six months. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service. The Company accounts for gratuity benefits payable in future based on an independent actuarial valuation. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in Other comprehensive income.

Through its defined benefit plans the Company is exposed to a number of risks, the most significant of which are detailed below:

Life expectancy

The majority of the plan's obligations are to provide benefits for the life of the member, so increases in life expectancy will result in an increase in the plan's liabilities. This is particularly significant in the Company's defined benefit plans, where inflationary increases result in higher sensitivity to changes in life expectancy.

Compensated absences

The Company provides for encashment of leave or leave with pay subject to certain rules. The employees are entitled to accumulate leave subject to certain limits, for future encashment/availment. The liability is provided based on the number of days of unutilised leave at each Balance Sheet date on the basis of an independent actuarial valuation.

The significant actuarial assumptions used for the purposes of the actuarial valuations were as follows:

Particulars	31st March, 2018	31st March, 2017
Discount rate(s)	8.05%	7.25%
Expected rate(s) of salary increase	8.00%	8.00%

	21-30	30%	21-30	5%
	31-59	0%	31-40	3%
			41-59	2%

The sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to changes in the weighted principal assumptions is:

Principal assumption	Year	Changes in assumption	Impact on defined benefit obligation: Increase in assumption	Decrease in assumption
Discount rate	2018	1.0%	-19.43%	24.60%

	2017	1.0%	22.60%	-18.08%

The above sensitivity analyses are based on a change in an assumption while holding all other assumptions constant. In practice this is unlikely to occur, and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied as when calculating the defined benefit liability recognised in the Balance Sheet.

The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analyses did not change compared to previous period.

Maturity profile of defined benefit obligation:

Expected benefits for year 1	719	348

ANNEXURE TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF TRRINGO.COM LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Trringo.com Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that operate effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

(1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;

(2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and

(3) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

1. Corporate Information

Trringo.com Limited is a 100 % subsidiary of Mahindra and Mahindra Limited and incorporated on 23rd May, 2016 under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (CIN: U01409MH2016PLC281449). The Company is in the business of organized farm equipment rentals through a franchisee based model.

2. Significant accounting policies

(A) Statement of compliance

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Ind AS notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended.

(B) Basis of preparation and presentation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, presented in Indian rupees and rounded off to nearest lacs.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/ or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 102, leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in Ind AS 2 or value in use in Ind AS 36.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

(C) Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, the management is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

(D) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of assets less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

(E) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Useful lives of intangible assets

Estimated useful lives of the intangible assets are as follows:

IT Software 3 to 6 years

(F) Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

(G) Foreign exchange gains and losses

The fair value of financial assets denominated in a foreign currency is determined in that foreign currency and translated at the spot rate at the end of each reporting period.

- For foreign currency denominated financial assets measured at amortised cost and FVTPL, the exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss except for those which are designated as hedging instruments in a hedging relationship.
- Changes in the carrying amount of investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI relating to changes in foreign currency rates are recognised in other comprehensive income.

For the purposes of recognising foreign exchange gains and losses, FVTOCI debt instruments are treated as financial assets measured at amortised cost. Thus, the exchange differences on the amortised cost are recognised in profit or loss and other changes in the fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income.

(H) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a Company entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

All recognised financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at either amortised cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets

Impairment of financial assets

The Company applies the expected credit loss model for recognising impairment loss on financial assets measured at amortised cost, trade receivables, other contractual rights to receive cash and other financial asset.

Expected credit losses are the weighted average of credit losses with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. Credit loss is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive (i.e. all cash shortfalls).

Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party. If the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Company recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity is recognised in profit or loss if such gain or loss would have otherwise been recognised in profit or loss on disposal of that financial asset.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method or at FVTPL.

Financial liabilities subsequently measured at amortised cost

Financial liabilities that are not held-for-trading and are not designated as at FVTPL are measured at amortised cost at the end of subsequent accounting periods. The carrying amounts of financial liabilities that are subsequently measured at amortised cost are determined based on the effective interest method. Interest expense that is not capitalised as part of costs of an asset is included in the 'Finance costs' line item.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

(I) Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Sale of Services

Revenue from the rental services is recognised when the service is delivered and completed, all the following conditions are satisfied:

- the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the services rendered;
- the amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; and
- the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Interest income

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding.

(J) Government Grants

The Company directly or indirectly is entitled to incentives from government authorities in respect of custom hiring and service centers. The Company accounts for its entitlement as income on accrual basis.

Government grants are recognized in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Company recognizes as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. When the grants relates to an asset, it is recognized as income in equal amounts over the useful life of the related asset.

(K) Employee benefits

Retirement benefit costs and termination benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

For defined benefit retirement benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method. Re-measurement recognised in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained earnings and is not reclassified to profit or loss. Past service cost is recognised in profit or loss in the period of a plan amendment. Defined benefit costs are categorised as follows:

- service cost (including current service cost, past service cost, as well as gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- net interest expense or income; and
- re-measurement

The Company presents the first two components of defined benefit costs in profit or loss in the line item 'Employee benefits expense'. Curtailment gains and losses are accounted for as past service costs.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the balance sheet represents the actual deficit or surplus in the Company's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

Short-term and other long-term employee benefits

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and sick leave in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows expected to be made by the Company in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

(L) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

(M) Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current tax:

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax:

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax for the year:

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

(N) Leasing

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks & rewards of ownership to the leases. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Company as lessee:

The assets held under finance leases are initially recongnised as assets of the company at their fair value at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the balance sheet as a finance lease obligation. Lease payments are apportioned between finance expense and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance expenses are recognized immediately in profit or loss, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the Company's general policies on borrowing cost. Contingent rentals are recognized as expense in the period in which they are incurred.

Rental expense from the operating lease is generally recognized on a straight line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Where the rentals are structured solely to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessors expected inflationary cost increases, such increases are recognized in the year in which such benefits accrue.

(O) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (when the effect of the time value of money is material).

Financial Risk Management Framework

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. In order to manage the aforementioned risks, the Company operates a risk management policy and a program that performs close monitoring of and responding to each risk factor.

CREDIT RISK

Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Company. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents, investments carried at amortised cost, deposits with banks and financial institutions as well as credit exposures to customers including outstanding receivables.

Trade Receivables:

The Companys trade receivables include receivables on sale of residential flats. As per the Company's flat handover policy, a flat is handed over to a customer only upon payment of entire amount of consideration. Thus, the Company is not exposed to any credit risk on receivables from sale of residential flats.

Balances with Banks, mutual funds and other financial assets:

For banks and financial institutions, only high rated banks/institutions are accepted. The Company holds cash and cash equivalents with bank and financial institution counterparties, which are having highest safety ratings based on ratings published by various credit rating agencies. The Company considers that its cash and cash equivalents have low credit risk based on external credit ratings of the counterparties.

For other financial assets, the Company assesses and manages credit risk based on reasonable and supportive forward looking information. The Company does not have significant credit risk exposure for these items.

LIQUIDITY RISK

(i) Liquidity risk management

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the board of directors, which has established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Company's short-, medium- and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

MARKET RISK

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk and other price risk such as equity price risk and commodity price risk. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters, while optimising the return. All such transactions are carried out within the guidelines set by the Board of Directors.

Amendment to Ind AS 12 – 'Income Taxes':
The amendments clarify the requirement for recognising deferred tax assets on unrealised losses on debt instruments that are measured at fair value. The amendment also clarify certain other aspects of accounting for deferred tax assets. The changes will not have any material impact on the financial statements of the Company.

Amendment to Ind AS 21 – 'The Effect of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates':

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Stockholder and the Board of Directors

Mahindra USA, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Mahindra USA, Inc., a Texas corporation, which comprise the balance sheets as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, and the related statements of income, stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

As discussed in Note 1 to the financial statements, the Company reports its investment in its wholly owned subsidiaries at cost. In our opinion, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that all majority-owned subsidiaries be accounted for as consolidated subsidiaries. If the financial statements of these subsidiaries had been consolidated with those of Mahindra USA, Inc., total assets and total liabilities would increase by $10,868,669 and $6,342,621 as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, respectively, revenues and expenses would have increased by $4,462,445 and $6,694,622, respectively, and net income would have decreased by $644,072 and $4,166,050, respectively, for the years then ended.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the effects of not consolidating majority-owned subsidiaries as discussed in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Mahindra USA, Inc. as of March 31, 2018 and 2017, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Emphasis-of-Matter for Presentation of Financial Information

The presentation of financial information in Indian rupees in the financial statements is not a required part of the basic financial statements. We have verified the arithmetic accuracy of the presentation based upon an exchange rate provided by Company's management. We did not audit and do not express an opinion on such information, and our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS MARCH 31, 2018 AND 2017

NOTE 1 – THE COMPANY AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company

Mahindra USA, Inc. (the "Company") ("MUSA") was incorporated June 8, 1994 in the State of Texas, and commenced business on March 15, 1995. The Company is owned by Mahindra and Mahindra, Ltd. ("M&M"). M&M is a publicly traded corporation headquartered in Mumbai, India which, among other activities, manufactures farming equipment and automobiles. The Company sells tractors, parts, attachments and accessories in North America under wholesale distribution agreements. The Company's sales are to a network of 542 dealer locations throughout North America.

The Company formed a wholly owned subsidiary on December 18, 2013, Mahindra North American Technical Center, Inc., ("MNATC"), to design and develop complete prototype vehicle designs and related parts to facilitate M&M's expansion in the worldwide vehicle market. Effective April 1, 2015, the assets, liabilities, and business activities of MNATC was sold to another M&M subsidiary, Mahindra Vehicle Manufacturers Limited. Subsequently in October 2015, the United States Postal Services ("USPS") issued a solicitation for development of Next Generation Delivery Vehicle ("NGDV") prototypes, and MNATC responded in February 2016. In September 2016, MNATC was selected as one of six participants to develop these vehicles. MNATC contracted with another M&M subsidiary to provide design and engineering services for the NGDV prototypes. On March 27, 2017, M&M incorporated a new subsidiary, Mahindra Automotive North American, Inc. ("MANA") to acquire and own MNATC. The board of directors of MANA met on April 13, 2017 and approved the purchase of MNATC from the Company for $10,000 which was effective on May 1, 2017.

The Company formed another subsidiary on August 9, 2016, Mahindra Mexico S de. R.L. de. C.V. ("MML"), to assemble and sell tractors, parts, attachments and accessories in Mexico and Latin America. MML commenced commercial operations in July 2018.

The Company reported its investment in MNATC and MML at cost. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that all majority-owned subsidiaries be accounted for using consolidated financial statements.

Financial Presentation in U.S. Dollars and Indian Rupees

Financial information in this report is shown in U.S. dollars ("$") and in Indian rupees ("INR"). For both March 31, 2018 and 2017, dollar amounts are translated for convenience into Indian rupees at a closing exchange rate of 64.9150 INR per dollar for assets and liabilities and an average exchange rate of 64.5170 INR per dollar for revenue and expenses. These rates originate from the telegraphic transfer buying and selling rates quoted by the Mumbai Branch of State Bank of India on March 31, 2018. Within the notes to the financial statements, Indian rupee amounts are shown parenthetically following the U.S. dollar amount.

Significant Accounting Policies

Accounting method –

The financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). However, as noted above, the financial results of MNATC and MML, both being wholly owned subsidiaries, are not included in these financial statements.

Use of estimates –

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Receivables –

Receivables are stated at the amount invoiced for the sale to the various dealers. The is currently an allowance for uncollectible accounts of $550,281 (INR 35,721,511) and $1,222,686 (INR 79,370,666) at March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017, respectively, which management considers sufficient to cover uncollectible accounts (see Note 2 for a discussion of dealer financing arrangements).

Revenue Recognition –

Revenue from the sale of tractors, parts, attachments and accessories is recognized when the ordered goods are invoiced to the dealer. Invoices are issued after credit approval and when the ordered items are ready for shipment. The Company participates in various retail incentives with its dealers. At the time a sale is recognized, the Company records an estimate of the future sales incentive costs for allowances and financing programs that will be due when a dealer sells the equipment to a retail customer. The estimate is based on historical data, announced incentive programs, field inventory levels, and retail sales volumes.

Inventories –

New tractors, parts, and accessories are stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined by the moving average price.

Property and equipment –

Property and equipment are stated at cost. The cost of additions and improvements are capitalized and expenditures for repairs and maintenance are expensed in the period incurred. When items of property and equipment are sold or retired, the related costs and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any gain or loss on disposition is included in the statement of income. Property and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value of the asset may not be recoverable. No impairment charges were recorded during the years ended March 31, 2018 and 2017.

Depreciation is provided over the useful lives of the related assets using the straight-line method for financial reporting and the modified accelerated cost recovery method for tax purposes.

Income taxes –

Income for financial reporting purposes is different than income for income tax reporting purposes due principally from timing differences related to allowances for inventory valuation, allowance for doubtful accounts, depreciation and several expense accruals. Federal and state income tax returns for the Company are subject to examination for three years from the date of filling. Years open for examination are from March 31, 2015 to present.

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all cash accounts, money market accounts, and certificates of deposit with maturities of less than three months to be cash and cash equivalents.

APPENDIX I

Further description of Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Pre-Operating Stage Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the pre-operating stage financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
- We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Dear Sirs. Director
Mahindra do Brasil Industrial Ltda.
DoisIrmãos – RS – Brazil

Opinion

We have audited the individual financial statements of Mahindra do Brasil Industrial Ltda., which comprise the balance sheet as of March 31, 2018 and the related income statements, statements of changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, as well as the summary of significant accounting practices and other explanatory notes.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Mahindra do Brasil Industrial Ltda. on March 31, 2018, the performance of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil.

Basis for opinion

Our audit was conducted in accordance with Brazilian and international auditing standards. Our responsibilities, in accordance with such standards, are described in the following section entitled "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of Financial Statements." We are independent of the Company, in accordance with the relevant ethical principles set forth in the Professional Code of Ethics of the Accountant and the professional standards issued by the Federal Accounting Council, and we comply with the other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these standards. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to substantiate our opinion.

Emphasis

As mentioned in note nº 12, on march 31, 2018 the Company has deferred tax credits arising from equity valuation, income tax loss carryforwards and negative social contribution bases in the amount of IRN64,740 thousand (Indian Rupees) and R$ 3.320 thousand (Brazilian Currency), which, according to studies prepared by management, it is estimated that Will be recovered within a period of up to 10 years, based on the improvement of the Company's operating and financial margin indicators to be conducted by management. The realization of these credits depends on the fulfillment of these projections and, at this moment, we can't affirm that the balances of these assets recorded in the financial statements as of march 31, 2018 will be realized by the totals presented, as they depend on the success and monitoring of the realization plan Developed by the Administration. The accounting practices establish that the maintenance of this asset depends, among other aspects, on the generation of future taxable profits for the offset of these credits. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the realization and classification of asset values or to the amounts and classification of liabilities that would be required in case of failure of the measures currently in progress by management. Our opinion has no qualifications related to this matter.

Management and governance responsibilities of the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil and for the internal controls that it has determined to be necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements free of material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for evaluating the Company's ability to continue operating, disclosing, when applicable, matters related to its operational continuity and the use of this accounting basis in the preparation of the financial statements, unless Management intends to liquidate the Company or cease its operations, or has no realistic alternative to avoid closing the operations.

Those responsible for the governance of the Company are those responsible for supervising the process of preparing the financial statements.

Responsibilities of the auditor for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance that the financial statements, taken as a whole, are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error, and issue an audit report containing our opinion. Reasonable security is a high level of security, but not a guarantee that the audit conducted in accordance with Brazilian and international auditing standards will always detect any relevant material misstatements. Distortions may be due to fraud or error and are considered relevant when, individually or jointly, they can influence, from a reasonable perspective, the economic decisions of the users taken based on the referred financial statements.

As part of the audit conducted in accordance with Brazilian and international auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. Besides that:

- We identify and evaluate the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, whether caused by fraud or error, we plan and perform audit procedures in response to such risks, and we obtain audit evidence appropriate and sufficient to substantiate our opinion. The risk of not detecting material misstatement resulting from fraud is greater than that of error, since fraud may involve circumvention of internal controls, collusion, falsification, omission or false intentional representations.

- We obtain an understanding of the internal controls relevant to the audit to plan audit procedures appropriate to the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal controls.

- We evaluate the adequacy of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates and respective disclosures made by management.
- We conclude on the adequacy of the management's use of the accounting basis for operational continuity and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether there is a material uncertainty regarding events or conditions that may raise significant doubt regarding the capacity for operational continuity of the Company. If we conclude that there is material uncertainty, we should draw attention in our audit report to the respective disclosures in the financial statements or include any change in our opinion if the disclosures are inadequate. Our findings are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to no longer be in operational continuity.
- We evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of financial statements, including disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the related transactions and events in a manner consistent with the appropriate presentation objective.

We communicate with those responsible for governance regarding, inter alia, the planned scope, timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant weaknesses in the internal controls we have identified during our work.

The main accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied in all years presented, unless otherwise stated.

These financial statements were approved by the board of directors on March 31, 2018.

2.1 Basis for preparation

The preparation of financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates and also the exercise of judgment by management in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies. Those areas that require a higher level of judgment and are more complex, as well as the areas in which assumptions and estimates are significant for the financial statements, are disclosed in Note 2.15.

(a) Financial Statements

The financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil, including pronouncements, guidelines and interpretations issued by the Accounting Pronouncements Committee (CPC) and approved by the Federal Accounting Council (CFC) in accordance with Laws 6,404/1976 and 11,638/2007.

2.2 Exchange of foreign currency

Functional currency and presentation currency

The items included in the Company's financial statements are measured using the currency of the principal economic environment in which the Company operates ("the functional currency"). The financial statements are presented in Reais (R$), which is the Company's functional currency.

Foreign Currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currency are translated to the Brazilian Real by the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate calculated on that date. Exchange rate gain or loss on monetary items is the difference between the amortized cost of the functional currency at the beginning of the period, adjusted for interest and actual payments during the period, and the amortized cost in foreign currency at the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. Foreign currency differences resulting from the conversion are recognized in profit or loss.

Financial Presentation is Foreign Currency and Indian Ruopees

Financial information in this report is shown in Brazilian Real ("BRL") and in Indian rupees ("INR"). For both March 31, 2018 and 2017, BRL amounts are translated for convenience into Indian rupees at a closing exchange rate of 19.50 INR per Real for assets and liabilities and an average exchange rate of 20.01 INR per Real for revenue and expenses. These rates originate from the telegraphic transfer buying and selling rates quoted by the Mumbai Branch of State Bank of India on March 31, 2018

2.3 Calculation of Results

The results of operations are determined in accordance with the accrual basis.

2.4 Cash and Cash equivalents

They are comprised of financial resources held in cash, banks account movement and financial investments. Short-term investments are valued at cost, plus income earned through the balance sheet date. These financial instruments are used for trading and are recorded at realizable values (Note 4).

2.5 Financial Assets and Liabilities

Classification and measurement

The Company classifies its financial assets under the following categories: loans and receivables are measured at fair value through profit or loss. The classification depends on the purpose for which the financial assets were acquired. Management determines the classification of its financial assets in the initial recognition.

Loans and receivables

Included in this category are receivables that are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are included in current assets, except for those with a maturity of more than 12 months after the balance sheet date (these are classified in noncurrent assets). The Company's receivables comprise trade accounts receivable, other accounts receivable and cash and cash equivalents, other than short-term investments. Receivables are recorded at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or losses are financial assets held for active and frequent trading. Assets in this category are classified in current assets. Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss are presented in the statement of operations under "Financial income" in the period in which they occur. They refer primarily to short-term financial investments.

2.6 Non-derivative financial liabilities

The Company recognizes debt securities issued and subordinated liabilities initially on the date they are originated. All other financial liabilities are initially recognized on the trade date on which the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. The Company lowers a financial liability when it has its contractual obligations withdrawn, canceled or expired.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is presented in the balance sheet only when the Company has the legal right to offset the amounts and intends to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and pay the liability simultaneously. The Company has the following non-derivative financial liabilities: loans with related parties, suppliers, loans and other accounts payable.

These financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value plus any attributable transaction costs. After initial recognition, these financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

2.7 Inventory

The cost of inventories is based on the weighted average principle and includes expenses incurred in the acquisition of inventories, production and processing costs and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing locations and conditions.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and selling expenses.

2.8 Fixed Assets

(a) Classification and measurement

The Company opted to revalue the fixed assets at deemed cost on October 31, 2016. The effects of attributed cost decreased fixed assets and offset against shareholders' equity, net of tax effects (Note 9).

After the transition of CPCs, fixed asset items are measured at historical cost of acquisition or construction, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Cost includes expenses that are directly attributable to the acquisition of an asset. Purchased software that is an integral part of the functionality of an equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

Gains and losses on the sale of an item of fixed assets are determined by comparing the proceeds from the sale with the book value of fixed asset and are recognized net of other income in the statement of income.

(b) Subsequent Cost

The replacement cost of a component of fixed asset is recognized in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the economic benefits incorporated into the component will flow to the Company and that its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the component that has been replaced by another is decreased. The maintenance costs of fixed assets are recognized in the income statement as incurred.

(c) Depreciation

Depreciation is recognized in the statement of income based on the straight-line method with respect to the estimated useful lives of each part of an item of fixed assets, since this method is the one that most closely reflects the consumption pattern of future economic benefits incorporated in the asset.

2.9 Impairment

The Company analyzes the existence of evidence that the carrying amount of an asset will not be recovered. If evidence is identified, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. The recoverable value of an asset is the greater of: (a) its fair value less costs that would be incurred to sell it, and (b) its value in use. The value in use is equivalent to the discounted cash flows (before taxes) derived from the continuous use of the asset until the end of its useful life.

When the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the Company recognizes a reduction in the carrying amount of this asset (impairment). For the assets recorded at cost, the impairment is recorded in the income statement for the period. If the recoverable amount of an asset is not determined individually, the recoverable value of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

2.10 Provisions

A provision is recognized based on a past event and whether the Company has a legal or constructive obligation that can be reliably estimated and it is probable that an economic resource will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are cleared by discounting expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and liabilities specific risks.

Financial liabilities are classified as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, as the case may be. The Company determines the classification of its financial liabilities at the time of its initial recognition. The Company's financial liabilities include accounts payable to suppliers, tax and labor liabilities.

2.11 Paid-in Capital

The shares are all paid up and classified as owners' equity. The mandatory minimum dividends, when existing, as defined in the bylaws are recognized as liabilities.

2.12 Operational Revenues

Operating income from the sale of goods in the ordinary course of business is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Operating income is recognized when there is convincing evidence that: (i) the most significant risks and benefits inherent in the ownership of the assets have been transferred to the buyer, which in the case of the Company is at the time the products are delivered to their customers; (ii) it is probable that the financial economic benefits will flow to the Company; (iii) that the associated costs and possible return of goods can be estimated reliably, (iv) that there is no continuous involvement with the goods sold, (v) and that the value Of operating revenue can be measured reliably. If discounts are likely to be granted and the amount can be measured reliably, then the discount is recognized as a reduction in operating revenue as sales are recognized.

2.13 Financial incomes and expenses

Financial income basically comprises interest income, discounts, income from financial investments, gains from exchange variation.

Financial expenses include interest expenses, financial expenses and loans and financing, as well as the respective exchange rate variations.

2.14 Income Tax and Social Contribution

Current and deferred income tax and social contribution are calculated based on the rates of 15%, plus an additional 10% on taxable income in excess of R$ 240 thousand for income tax and 9% on taxable income for social contribution. Their calculation considers the offsetting of tax losses and negative basis of social contribution, limited to 30% of the actual profit.

2.15 Critical accounting estimates and judgments

Accounting estimates and judgments are continuously evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events, which are considered reasonable for the circumstances.

Based on assumptions, the Company makes estimates regarding the future. By definition, the resulting accounting estimates will rarely equal their actual results. Estimates and assumptions that present a significant risk, with a probability of causing a material adjustment in the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for the next fiscal year, are contemplated below:

3. Financial Risk Management

ACCOMPANYING NOTES FOR MARCH 2018 FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Additional quantitative disclosures are included throughout these financial statements.

(b) Risk management Structure

Management has overall responsibility for the establishment and supervision of the Company's risk management structure. Risk management policies are established to identify and analyze the risks faced by the Company, to define appropriate risk limits and controls, and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are frequently reviewed to reflect changes in market conditions and in the Company's activities. The Company, through its standards and training and management procedures, has the objective of developing a disciplined and constructive control environment in which all employees understand their roles and obligations.

(c) Credit Risks

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss of the Company if a customer or counterparty in a financial instrument fails to comply with its contractual obligations, which arise mainly from customer receivables and investment securities.

Customers' receivables and other receivables

The Company's exposure to credit risk is mainly influenced by the individual characteristics of each client. However, management also considers the demographics of the customer base, including the credit risk of the region where clients operate, as these factors may have an influence on credit risk.

Management has established a credit policy in which all new customers have their credit capacity individually analyzed before the terms and conditions of payment and delivery of the Company are offered. The analysis includes external evaluations, when available, including prior analysis of the banking register made by the financial institutions themselves. Purchasing limits are set for each customer, guaranteed by financial institutions, which represent the maximum outstanding amount without requiring prior approval, these limits are periodically revised. Customers who fail to meet the established credit limit may only operate with the Company on an advance payment basis. Once the transaction is approved by the financial institution, the sale is carried out and the risk becomes entirely the financial institution.

In the monitoring of Customers' credit risk, they are grouped according to their credit characteristics, including geographic location, maturity and previous financial difficulties.

(d) Liquidity Risks

Liquidity risks is the Company's risk of finding difficulties to comply with its obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled with cash payments or with another financial asset. The Company's approach to liquidity management is to ensure as much as possible that it always has sufficient liquidity to meet its obligations under normal and stressful conditions without causing unacceptable losses or risks of damaging the Company's reputation.

Based on the calculation of the Liquidity indexes, the current liquidity ratio corresponds to 1.15 as of March 31, 2018, a result that shows the remaining available cash and banks for a possible liquidation of short-term obligations.

(e) Market Risks

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as exchange rates, interest rates and stock prices, may impact on the Company's earnings or the value of its holdings in financial instruments. The purpose of market risk management is to manage and control exposures to market risks, within acceptable parameters, while optimizing return.

The Company complies with financial obligations to manage market risks. All these operations are conducted within the guidelines established by the Administration.

(f) Currency Risks

The Company is subject to currency risk in purchases and loans and financing denominated in a currency other than its functional currency, the Real (R$). The currency in which these transactions are primarily denominated is the US dollar.

With respect to other monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency, the Company guarantees that its net exposure is maintained at an acceptable level to treat short-term instabilities.

(g) Operational Risks

Operational risks are the risks of direct or indirect losses arising from a variety of causes associated with Company processes, personnel, technology and infrastructure and external factors, except for credit, market and liquidity risks, such as those arising from legal and regulatory requirements and generally accepted standards of business behavior. Operating risks arise from all operations of the Company.

The Company's objective is to manage operational risks to avoid the occurrence of financial losses and damages to its reputation, as well as to seek cost effectiveness and to avoid control procedures that restrict initiative and creativity.

The main responsibility for the development and implementation of controls to address operational risks is assigned to top management. The responsibility is supported by the development of the Company's general standards for the management of operational risks in the following areas:

- Requirements for adequate segregation of duties, including independent clearance of operations;

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Hisarlar Makina Sanayi ve Ticaret A.Ş.

Report on the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Qualified Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Hisarlar Makina Sanayi ve Ticaret A.Ş. ("the Company") and its subsidiary ("the Group"), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017, and the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the 'Basis for Qualified Opinion' paragraph, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2017, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

We were not able to observe the counting of the physical inventories as of 31 December 2016. Due to nature of the Entity's inventory records and high volume of transactions, the amount of inventory which could not be tested by other alternative audit procedures and inventory balance which we couldn't observe the counting amounts to TL 21.445.325 as of 31 December 2016. Since opening inventories enter into determination of the financial performance and cash flows, we were unable to determine whether adjustments might have been necessary in respect of the profit for the year reported in the profit or loss statement and the net cash flows from operating activities reported in the cash flow statement as of 31 December 2017.

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified opinion.

Emphasis of matter

Without qualifying our opinion, as described in Note 2.3 to the consolidated financial statements, we draw attention to the fact that the Group has completed the period ended 31 December 2017 with a net loss of TL 88.432.895 (31 December 2016: TL 93.700.633), accumulated losses has reached TL 97.046.757 (31 December 2016: TL 29.291.633) and short-term liabilities has exceeded current assets by TL 73.487.639 (31 December 2016: TL 196.170.644). Together with the effect of the accumulated losses and period loss, two thirds of the sum of capital and restricted profit reserves is unsecured in accordance with Article 376 of Turkish Commercial Law. The actions taken by the management in 2017, regarding the aforementioned fact and the plans for the future periods are explained in detail in Note 2.3.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

The Group do not have any material reclassifications and corrections in current year.

2.6 Basis of Consolidation

As of 31 December 2017 and 31 December 2016, details of the Company's subsidiary are as follows

Subsidiary	Group's proportion of ownership and voting power held (%) 2017	2016	Place of incorporation and operation	Principle activity
Hisarlar Pazarlama	100	90	Eskişehir-Eskişehir	Trading

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and entity controlled by the Company (its subsidiary). Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Company reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Company has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Company considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Company's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Company's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Company, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Company has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Company gains control until the date when the Company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiary is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Where necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiary to bring their accounting policies into line with those used by other members of the Group.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

If changes in accounting estimates are related to only one period, the changes are applied prospectively in the current period in which changes are made. No changes has been observed at the accounting estimates of the Group in the current year.

The accounting misstatements which are identified are applied retrospectively and consolidated financial statements of preceding period are restated. No material misstatement has been observed in order to restate the financial statements of the Group in the current year.

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments
IFRS 9 issued in November 2009 introduced new requirements for the classification and measurement of financial assets / liabilities and for derecognition and for general hedge accounting.

Key requirements of IFRS 9:

- all recognized financial assets that are within the scope of IFRS 9 are required to be subsequently measured at amortized cost or fair value. Specifically, debt investments that are held within a business model whose objective is to collect the contractual cash flows, and that have contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding are generally measured at amortized cost at the end of subsequent accounting periods. Debt instruments that are held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets, and that have contractual terms that give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding, are generally measured at FVTOCI. All other debt investments and equity investments are measured at their fair value at the end of subsequent accounting periods. In addition, under IFRS 9, entities may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of an equity investment (that is not held for trading nor contingent consideration recognized by an acquirer in a business combination) in other comprehensive income, with only dividend income generally recognized in profit or loss.

- with regard to the measurement of financial liabilities designated as at fair value through profit or loss, IFRS 9 requires that the amount of change in the fair value of a financial liability that is attributable to changes in the credit risk of that liability is presented in other comprehensive income, unless the recognition of such changes in other comprehensive income would create or enlarge an accounting mismatch in profit or loss. Changes in fair value attributable to a financial liability's credit risk are not subsequently reclassified to profit or loss. Under IAS 39, the entire amount of the change in the fair value of the financial liability designated as fair value through profit or loss is presented in profit or loss.

- in relation to the impairment of financial assets, IFRS 9 requires an expected credit loss model, as opposed to an incurred credit loss model under IAS 39. The expected credit loss model requires an entity to account for expected credit losses and changes in those expected credit losses at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition. In other words, it is no longer necessary for a credit event to have occurred before credit losses are recognized.

- the new general hedge accounting requirements retain the three types of hedge accounting mechanisms currently available in IAS 39. Under IFRS 9, greater flexibility has been introduced to the types of transactions eligible for hedge accounting, specifically broadening the types of instruments that qualify for hedging instruments and the types of risk components of non-financial items that are eligible for hedge accounting. In addition, the effectiveness test has been overhauled and replaced with the principle of an 'economic relationship'. Retrospective assessment of hedge effectiveness is also no longer required. Enhanced disclosure requirements about an entity's risk management activities have also been introduced.

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

Based on an analysis of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities as at 31 December 2017 on the basis of the facts and circumstances that exist at that date, the directors of the Company have assessed the impact of IFRS 9 to the Group's consolidated financial statements as follows:

Loans and receivables and financial liabilities carried at amortized cost as disclosed in Note 24: these are held within a business model whose objective is to collect the contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding. Accordingly, these financial assets will continue to be subsequently measured at amortized cost upon the application of IFRS 9;

All other financial assets and financial liabilities will continue to be measured on the same bases as is currently adopted under IAS 39.

Impairment

Financial assets measured at amortized cost will be carried at FVTOCI under IFRS 9.

In general, the directors anticipate that the application of the expected credit loss model of IFRS 9 will result in earlier recognition of credit losses for the respective items and will increase the amount of loss allowance recognized for these items.

IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers
IFRS 15 establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers. IFRS 15 will supersede the current revenue recognition guidance including IAS 18 Revenue, IAS 11 Construction Contracts and the related Interpretations when it becomes effective.

The core principle of IFRS 15 is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Specifically, the Standard introduces a 5-step approach to revenue recognition:

- Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer
- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price
- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

Under IFRS 15, an entity recognizes revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when 'control' of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

Far more prescriptive guidance has been added in IFRS 15 to deal with specific scenarios. Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by IFRS 15.

Apart from providing more extensive disclosures on the Group's revenue transactions, the Management is assessing whether the application of IFRS 15 will have a significant impact on the financial position and/or financial performance of the Group.

Amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28 Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture
The amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28 deal with situations where there is a sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate or joint venture. Specifically, the amendments state that gains or losses resulting from the loss of control of a subsidiary that does not contain a business in a transaction with an associate or a joint venture that is accounted for using the equity method, are recognised in the parent's profit or loss only to the extent of the unrelated investors' interests in that associate or joint venture. Similarly, gains and losses resulting from the remeasurement of investments retained in any former subsidiary (that has become an associate or a joint venture that is accounted for using the equity method) to fair value are recognised in the former parent's profit or loss only to the extent of the unrelated investors' interests in the new associate or joint venture.

The effective date of the amendments has yet to be set by the IASB; however, earlier application of the amendments is permitted. The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of these amendments may have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements in future periods should such transactions arise.

IFRS 16 Leases
IFRS 16 introduces a comprehensive model for the identification of lease arrangements and accounting treatments for both lessors and lessees. IFRS 16 will supersede the current lease guidance including IAS 17 Leases and the related interpretations when it becomes effective.

IFRS 16 distinguishes leases and service contracts on the basis of whether an identified asset is controlled by a customer. Distinctions of operating leases (off balance sheet) and finance leases (on balance sheet) are removed for lessee accounting, and is replaced by a model where a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability have to be recognized for all leases by lessees (i.e. all on balance sheet) except for short-term leases and leases of low value assets.

The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost (subject to certain exceptions) less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at that date. Subsequently, the lease liability is adjusted for interest and lease payments, as well as the impact of lease modifications, amongst others. Furthermore, the classification of cash flows will also be affected as operating lease payments under IAS 17 are presented as operating cash flows; whereas under the IFRS 16 model, the lease payments will be split into a principal and an interest portion which will be presented as financing and operating cash flows respectively.

In contrast to lessee accounting, IFRS 16 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in IAS 17, and continues to require a lessor to classify a lease either as an operating lease or a finance lease.

Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by IFRS 16.

In contrast, for finance leases where the Group is a lessee, as the Group has already recognized an asset and a related finance lease liability for the lease arrangement, and in cases where the Group is a lessor (for both operating and finance leases), the directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of IFRS 16 will have a significant impact on the amounts recognized in the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 2 Classification and Measurement of Share-Based Payment Transactions

The amendments clarify the following:

1. In estimating the fair value of a cash-settled share-based payment, the accounting for the effects of vesting and non-vesting conditions should follow the same approach as for equity-settled share-based payments.

2. Where tax law or regulation requires an entity to withhold a specified number of equity instruments equal to the monetary value of the employee's tax obligation to meet the employee's tax liability which is then remitted to the tax authority, i.e. the share-based payment arrangement has a 'net settlement feature', such an arrangement should be classified as equity-settled in its entirety, provided that the share-based payment would have been classified as equity-settled had it not included the net settlement feature.

3. A modification of a share-based payment that changes the transaction from cash-settled to equity-settled should be accounted for as follows:

    i. the original liability is derecognised;

    ii. the equity-settled share-based payment is recognised at the modification date fair value of the equity instrument granted to the extent that services have been rendered up to the modification date; and

    iii. any difference between the carrying amount of the liability at the modification date and the amount recognised in equity should be recognised in profit or loss immediately.

The amendments are effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 with earlier application permitted. Specific transition provisions apply. The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have a significant impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements as the Group does not have any cash-settled share-based payment arrangements or any withholding tax arrangements with tax authorities in relation to share-based payments.

IFRIC 22 Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration
IFRIC 22 addresses how to determine the 'date of transaction' for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of an asset, expense or income, when consideration for that item has been paid or received in advance in a foreign currency which resulted in the recognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability (for example, a non-refundable deposit or deferred revenue).

The Interpretation specifies that the date of transaction is the date on which the entity initially recognizes the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the Interpretation requires an entity to determine the date of transaction for each payment or receipt of advance consideration.

The Interpretation is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 with earlier application permitted. Entities can apply the Interpretation either retrospectively or prospectively. Specific transition provisions apply to prospective application.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements. This is because the Group already accounts for transactions involving the payment or receipt of advance consideration in a foreign currency in a way that is consistent with the amendments.

Amendments to IAS 40 Transfers of Investment Property
The amendments clarify that a transfer to, or from, investment property necessitates an assessment of whether a property meets, or has ceased to meet, the definition of investment property, supported by observable evidence that a change in use has occurred. The amendments further clarify that the situations listed in IAS 40 are not exhaustive and that a change in use is possible for properties under construction (i.e. a change in use is not limited to completed properties).

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 with earlier application permitted. Entities can apply the amendments either retrospectively (if this is possible without the use of hindsight) or prospectively. Specific transition provisions apply.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of these amendments may have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements in future periods should there be a change in use of any of its properties.

Annual Improvements to IFRS Standards 2014–2016 Cycle
The Annual Improvements include amendments to a number of IFRSs, which have been summarised below. The package also includes amendments to IFRS 12 Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities, which is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2017 (see section 1A above for details).

- IFRS 1: The amendments delete certain short-term exemptions in IFRS 1 because the reporting period to which the exemptions applied have already passed. As such, these exemptions are no longer applicable.

- IAS 28: The amendments clarify that the option for a venture capital organisation and other similar entities to measure investments in associates and joint ventures at FVTPL is available separately for each associate or joint venture, and that election should be made at initial recognition of the associate or joint venture.

In respect of the option for an entity that is not an investment entity (IE) to retain the fair value measurement applied by its associates and joint ventures that are IEs when applying the equity method, the amendments make a similar clarification that this choice is available for each IE associate or IE joint venture.

The amendments apply retrospectively with earlier application permitted.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Amendments to IAS 28 Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures
This amendment clarifies that an entity applies IFRS 9 Financial Instruments to long-term interests in an associate or joint venture that form part of the net investment in the associate or joint venture but to which the equity method is not applied.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 17 Insurance Contracts
This new standard requires insurance liabilities to be measured at a current fulfillment value and provides a more uniform measurement and presentation approach for all insurance contracts. These requirements are designed to achieve the goal of a consistent, principle-based accounting for insurance contracts. IFRS 17 supersedes IFRS 4 Insurance Contracts as of 1 January 2021.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

IFRIC 23 Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments
This interpretation addresses the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates, when there is uncertainty over income tax treatments under IAS 12. It specifically considers:

- Whether tax treatments should be considered collectively
- Assumptions for taxation authorities' examinations
- The determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates
- The effect of changes in facts and circumstances.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 9 Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation
This amendment amends the existing requirements in IFRS 9 regarding termination rights in order to allow measurement at amortized cost (or, depending on the business model, at fair value through other comprehensive income) even in the case of negative compensation payments.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of the amendments in the future will have an impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Annual Improvements to IFRS Standards 2015–2017 Cycle

- IFRS 3 and IFRS 11 - The amendments to IFRS 3 clarify that when an entity obtains control of a business that is a joint operation, it remeasures previously held interests in that business. The amendments to IFRS 11 clarify that when an entity obtains joint control of a business that is a joint operation, the entity does not remeasure previously held interests in that business.
- IAS 12 - The amendments clarify that all income tax consequences of dividends (i.e. distribution of profits) should be recognized in profit or loss, regardless of how the tax arises.
- IAS 23 - The amendments clarify that if any specific borrowing remains outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale, that borrowing becomes part of the funds that an entity borrows generally when calculating the capitalization rate on general borrowings.

The Group evaluates the effects of these standards, amendments and improvements on the consolidated financial statements.

2.10 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Related Parties
A related party is a person or entity that is related to the entity that is preparing its financial statements

a) A person or a close member of that person's family is related to a reporting entity if that person:

(i) has control or joint control over the reporting entity;

(ii) has significant influence over the reporting entity; or

(iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the reporting entity or of a parent of the reporting entity.

(b) An entity is related to a reporting entity if any of the following conditions applies:

(i) The entity and the reporting entity are members of the same group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others).

(ii) One entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or an associate or joint venture of a member of a group of which the other entity is a member).

(iii) Both entities are joint ventures of the same third party.

(iv) One entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity.

(v) The entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the reporting entity or an entity related to the reporting entity. If the reporting entity is itself such a plan, the sponsoring employers are also related to the reporting entity.

(vi) The entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a).

(vii) A person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).

Revenue
Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue is reduced for estimated customer returns, rebates, and other similar allowances.

Sale of goods:

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the goods are delivered and titles have passed, at which time all the time following conditions are satisfied:

- The Group has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;
- The Group retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the entity; and
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Interest revenue
Interest revenue is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount.

Rental income

Inventories
Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The cost of inventories is determined on a weighted average basis. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make a sale. When the net realizable value of inventory is less than cost, the inventory is written down to the net realizable value and the expense is included in statement of income/(loss) in the period the write-down or loss occurred. When the circumstances that previously caused inventories to be written down below cost no longer exist or when there is clear evidence of an increase in net realizable value because of changed economic circumstances, the amount of the write-down is reversed. The reversal amount is limited to the amount of the original write-down.

Property, plant and equipment
As of 31 December 2010, land and buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated at cost and depreciation has been recorded for buildings. Starting from 31 December 2011, these assets are stated in the balance sheet at their revalued amounts, being the fair value at the date of revaluation, less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses. Starting from 31 December 2016, plant, machinery and equipment are also stated in the balance sheet at their revalued amounts, being the fair value at the date of revaluation, less any subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses. The fair value at the date of revaluation is the estimated amount for which a property could be exchanged on the date of the valuation between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm's length transaction. Fair value determination is based on the market and cost approaches using quoted market prices for similar items when available and in some cases, using replacement cost when appropriate.

Any revaluation increase arising on the revaluation of such land, buildings and plant, machinery and equipment is credited in equity to the properties revaluation reserve, except to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease for the same asset previously recognized in profit or loss, in which case the increase is credited to profit or loss to the extent of the decrease previously charged. A decrease in carrying amount arising on the revaluation of such land, buildings and plant, machinery and equipment is charged to profit or loss to the extent that it exceeds the balance, if any, held in the properties revaluation reserve relating to a previous revaluation of that asset.

Depreciation on revalued buildings and plant, machinery and equipment is charged to profit or loss. On the subsequent sale or retirement of a revalued property, the related revaluation surplus remaining in the properties revaluation reserve is transferred directly to retained earnings. No transfer is made from the revaluation reserve to retained earnings except when an asset is derecognized.

Properties in the course of construction for production, rental or administrative purposes, or for purposes not yet determined, are carried at cost, less any recognized impairment loss. Cost includes professional fees. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Freehold land is not depreciated. Motor vehicles, furniture and fixtures, and leasehold improvements are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Depreciation is charged so as to write off the cost or valuation of assets, other than land and properties under construction, over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at each year end, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets or, where shorter, the term of the relevant lease.

The gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

Leasing
Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Group as lessor

Rental income from operating leases is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Group as lessee

Assets held under finance leases are initially recognized as assets of the Group at their fair value at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the statement of financial position as a finance lease obligation.

Lease payments are apportioned between finance expenses and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance expenses are recognized immediately in profit or loss, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the Group's general policy on borrowing costs.

Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

In the event that lease incentives are received to enter into operating leases, such incentives are recognized as a liability. The aggregate benefit of incentives is recognized as a reduction of rental expense on a straight-line basis, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

Intangible assets
Computer software

Acquired computer software licenses are capitalized on the basis of the costs incurred to acquire and bring to use the specific software. These costs are amortized over their estimated useful lives (3-5 years).

Internally-generated intangible assets – research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research activities is recognized as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognized if, and only if, all of the following have been demonstrated:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- The intention to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it;
- The ability to use or sell the intangible asset;

- How the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- The availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development

The amount initially recognized for internally-generated intangible assets is the sum of expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria listed above. Where no internally-generated intangible asset can be recognized, development expenditure is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred.

Subsequent to initial recognition, internally-generated intangible assets are reported at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets acquired separately.

Impairment of tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill
At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation increase.

Borrowing costs
Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization. All other borrowing costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Financial instruments
Financial assets

All financial assets are recognized and derecognized on a trade date where the purchase or sale of a financial asset is under a contract whose terms require delivery of the financial asset within the timeframe established by the market concerned, and are initially measured at fair value, plus transaction costs except for those financial assets classified as at fair value through profit or loss, which are initially measured at fair value.

Financial assets are classified into the following specified categories: financial assets as ‘at fair value through profit or loss’, ‘held-to-maturity investments’, ‘available-for-sale’ financial assets and ‘loans and receivables’.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial asset and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset, or, where appropriate, a shorter period.

Loans and receivables

Trade receivables, loans, and other receivables that have fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market are classified as ‘loans and receivables’. Loans and receivables are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method less any impairment.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and demand deposits and other short-term highly liquid investments which their maturities are three months or less from date of acquisition and that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Financial liabilitities

Financial liabilities at Fair value through Profit or Loss

Financial liabilities are classified as at fair value through profit or loss where the financial liability is either held for trading or it is designated as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are stated at fair value, with any resultant gain or loss recognized in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognized in profit or loss incorporates any interest paid on the financial liability.

Other financial liabilities

Other financial liabilities, including borrowings, are initially measured at fair value, net of transaction costs.

Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, with interest expense recognized on an effective yield basis.

Entities under common control
90% of the shares of Hisarlar Pazarlama were acquired by the Company from the shareholders of the Company on 14 August 2012. The acquired subsidiary was under common control by the Company since the beginning of its operations and is accounted for by use of the pooling of interest method. This application is based on management judgement that this treatment is the best way to present the economic substance of the transaction because there is no independent third party involved and hence measurement of the fair value is very difficult and, therefore meets the criteria of IAS 8.10-12. IAS 8.10 states that “In the absence of a standard or an interpretation that specifically applies to a transaction, other event or condition, management shall use its judgement in developing and applying an accounting policy that result in information that is: (a) relevant to the economic decision-making needs of users; and (b) reliable, in that financial statements.

IAS 8.12 states that; in making the judgement described in paragraph 10, management may also consider the most recent pronouncement of other standard-setting bodies that use a similar conceptual framework to develop accounting standards, other accounting literature, and accepted industrial practices, to the extent that these do not conflict with the sources in paragraph 11.

Foreign currency transactions
The individual financial statements of each Group entity are presented in the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (its functional currency). For the purpose of the consolidated financial statements, the results and financial position of each entity are expressed in TL, which is the functional currency of the Group, and the presentation currency for the consolidated financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements of the individual entities, transactions in currencies other than TL (foreign currencies) are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At each balance sheet date, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the balance sheet date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated. Gains and losses arising on settlement and translation of foreign currency items are included in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

Exchange differences are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise except for:

- Exchange differences on foreign currency borrowings relating to assets under construction for future productive use, which are included in the cost of those assets where they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs on those foreign currency borrowings;

- Exchange differences on transactions entered into in order to hedge certain foreign currency risks (see below for hedging accounting policies); and

- Exchange differences on monetary items receivable from or payable to a foreign operation for which settlement is neither planned nor likely to occur, which form part of the net investment in a foreign operation, and which are recognised in the foreign currency translation reserve and recognised in profit or loss on disposal of the net investment.

Events after the reporting period
Events after the reporting period are those events that occur between the balance sheet date and the date when the financial statements are authorized for issue, even if they occur after an announcement related with the profit for the year or public disclosure of other selected financial information.

The Group adjusts the amounts recognized in its financial statements if adjusting events occur after the balance sheet date.

Provisions, Contingent Assets and Liabilities
Provisions are recognized when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognized as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

Investment property
The Group has moved from cost model to fair value model for the measurement of its investment properties starting from 31 December 2016. The Company has not applied this change in accounting policy retrospectively and measured its investment properties with cost model as of 31 December 2015 and fair value model as of 31 December 2016. As of 31 December 2015 the fair value of investment properties was TL 408.318. As of 31 December 2016, the amount of TL 408.318 of the TL 1.619.308, which is the positive difference between the fair value model and the cost model, is recognized in retained earnings, and presented as “the effect of change in accounting policy” in the statement of changes in equity. Remaining portion of the total positive difference between the fair value model and the cost model is recognized in the consolidated statement of profit or loss.

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation, including property under construction for such purposes. Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at fair value. Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair values of investment properties are included in the profit or loss in the year in which they arise.

An investment property is derecognized upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property is included in profit or loss in the period in which the property is derecognized.

Transfers are made to or from investment property only when there is a change in use. For a transfer from investment property that is measured at fair value to owner occupied property, the deemed cost for subsequent accounting is the fair value at the date of change in use. If owner occupied property becomes an investment property that is measured at fair value, the Group accounts for such property in accordance with the policy stated under property, plant and equipment up to the date of change in use.

No assets held under operating lease have been classified as investment properties.

Taxation and deferred income taxes
Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current tax
The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit as reported in the comprehensive income statement because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company’s liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax
Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases which is used in the computation of taxable profit, and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset realized. Deferred tax is charged or credited to profit or loss, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in equity.

Current and deferred tax for the period
Current and deferred tax are recognized as in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Employment benefits
Termination and retirement benefits

Under Turkish law and union agreements, lump sum payments are made to employees retiring or involuntarily leaving the Company. Such payments are considered as being part of defined retirement benefit plan as per International Accounting Standard No. 19 (revised) "Employee Benefits" ("IAS 19").

The retirement benefit obligation recognized in the consolidated financial statements represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation. Calculated whole actuarial gains and loses are recognized in other comprehensive income.

Statement of cash flows
Current period statement of cash flows is categorized and reported as operating, investing and financing.

Share capital and dividends

2.11 Critical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty

Key sources of estimation uncertainty
The key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the balance sheet date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, is discussed below:

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of its property, plant and equipment and intangible assets at the end of each reporting period. The Group takes into consideration the intended use of the property, plant and equipment and intangible assets, the advancement in technology related to the particular type of property, plant and equipment as well as other factors that may require management to extend or shorten the useful lives and the assets' related depreciation.

The Group considers the useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets as described in Note 9 and 10.

Determination of fair values of property, plant and equipment

The fair values of property, plant and equipment are based on valuations, performed by independent valuers, who hold recognized and relevant professional qualifications. The valuations are based primarily on comparable fair market value of lands and, estimating costs to rebuild the building in the new economic conditions.

Internally-generated intangible assets

An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognized only if the technical feasibility and the intention to complete the intangible asset, the ability to use or sell the intangible asset are demonstrated, how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits is determined, adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset is available and the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development can be reliably measured. Other development expenditures that do not meet these criteria are recognized as expense when incurred. The Group Management considers that the internally-generated intangible assets will generate economic benefits and management is confident that the carrying amount of the assets will be recovered in full.

Deferred taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded using substantially enacted tax rates for the effect of temporary differences between book and tax bases of assets and liabilities. Based on available evidence, both positive and negative, it is determined whether it is probable that all or a portion of the deferred tax assets will be realized. If based on the weight of all available evidence, it is the Group's belief that taxable profit will not be available sufficient to utilize some portion of these deferred tax assets, then some portion of or all of the deferred tax assets is not recognized.

Long-term provisions for employee benefits

Under Turkish Labor Law, the Group is required to pay termination benefits to each employee who has completed certain years of service and whose employment is terminated without due cause, is called up for military service, dies or achieves the retirement age (58 for women and 60 for men).

The amount payable consists of one month's salary limited to a maximum of TL 4.732,48 (2016: TL 4.297,21) for each period of service at 31 December 2017.

Retirement pay liability is not subject to any kind of funding legally. Provision for retirement pay liability is calculated by estimating the present value of probable liability amount arising due to retirement of employees. IAS 19 Employee Benefits stipulates the development of company's liabilities by using actuarial valuation methods under defined benefit plans. In this direction, actuarial assumptions used in calculation of total liabilities are described as follows:

The principal assumption is that the maximum liability for each year of service will increase parallel with inflation. Thus, the discount rate applied represents the expected real rate after adjusting for the anticipated effects of future inflation. Consequently, in the accompanying financial statements as at 31 December 2017, the provision has been calculated by estimating the present value of the future probable obligation of the Company arising from the retirement of the employees. The provisions at the respective balance sheet dates have been calculated with the assumption of an annual inflation rate of 6,5% and a discount rate of 11,5%, resulting in a real discount rate of approximately 4,69% (31 December 2016: discount rate of approximately 4,21%). Estimated amount of retirement pay not paid due to voluntary leaves and retained in the Company is also taken into consideration. The rate of voluntary leaves and retained in the Company is taken between %0 for 0-15 years employee and %9,39 for more than 16 years employees. Ceiling for retirement pay is revised semi-annually. Ceiling amount of TL 5.001,76 (1 January 2017: 4.426,16) which is in effect since 1 January 2018 is used in the calculation of Group's provision for retirement pay liability.

Corporate Tax

The Group is subject to Turkish corporate taxes. Provision is made in the accompanying financial statements for the estimated charge based on the Group's results for the years and periods. Turkish tax legislation does not permit a parent company and its subsidiary to file a consolidated tax return. Therefore, provisions for taxes, as reflected in the accompanying consolidated financial statements, have been calculated on a separate-entity basis.

Corporate tax is applied on taxable corporate income, which is calculated from the statutory accounting profit by adding back non-deductible expenses, and deducting exempt income, non-taxable income and other incentives (previous years losses, if any, and investment incentives utilized, if preferred).

The effective tax rate in 2017 is 20% (2016: 20%).

In Turkey, advance tax returns are filed on a quarterly basis. Advance corporate income tax rate applied in 2017 is 20% (2016: 20%). Losses can be carried forward for offset against future taxable income for up to 5 years. However, losses cannot be carried back for offset against profits from previous periods.

Furthermore, there is no procedure for a final and definitive agreement on tax assessments. Companies file their tax returns between 1-25 April following the close of the accounting year to which they relate. Tax authorities may, however, examine such returns and the underlying accounting records and may revise assessments within five years.

The Law numbered 7061 on Amendment of Certain Taxes and Laws and Other Acts was published on the Official Gazette dated December 5, 2017 and numbered 30261. Article 5 entitled "Exceptions" of the Corporate Tax Law has been amended in Article 89 of the Law. In accordance with (a) clause in the first paragraph of the Article, the exemption of 75% applied to gains from the sales of lands and buildings held by the entities for two full years has been reduced to rate of 50%. This regulation has been effective from 5 December 2017.

Income Witholding Tax

In addition to corporate taxes, companies should also calculate income withholding taxes and funds surcharge on any dividends distributed, except for companies receiving dividends who are Turkish residents and Turkish branches of foreign companies. Income withholding tax applied in between 24 April 2003 – 22 July 2006 is 10% and commencing from 22 July 2006, this rate has been changed to 15% upon the Council of Minister's' Resolution No: 2006/10731. Undistributed dividends incorporated in share capital are not subject to income withholding tax.

Withholding tax at the rate of 19,8% is still applied to investment allowances relating to investment incentive certificates obtained prior to 24 April 2003. Subsequent to this date, the investments without investment incentive certificates do not qualify for tax allowance.

Deferred tax:

The Group recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities based upon temporary differences arising between its financial statements as reported for IFRS purposes and its statutory tax financial statements. These differences usually result in the recognition of revenue and expenses in different reporting periods for IFRS and tax purposes and they are given below.

Tax rate used in the calculation of deferred tax assets and liabilities was %22 over temporary timing differences expected to be reversed in 2018, 2019 and 2020, and %20 over temporary timing differences expected to be reversed in 2021 and the following years (2016: 20%).

For calculation of deferred tax asset and liabilities, the rate of 20% (2016: 20%) is used.

24. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

a) Capital risk management

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximizing the return to stakeholders through the optimization of the debt and equity balance.

The Group controls its capital using the net debt/total capital ratio. This ratio is calculated as net debt divided by the total capital amount. Net debt is calculated as total liability amount less cash and cash equivalents. Total capital is calculated as shareholders' equity plus the net debt amount as presented in the balance sheet.

As of 31 December 2017 and 31 December 2016 net debt / total capital ratio is as follows:

	1 January-31 December 2017	1 January-31 December 2016
Total Debts (Note: 23)	185.026.095	137.418.343

b) Financial risk factors

The risks of the Group, resulted from operations, include market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's risk management program generally seeks to minimize the effects of uncertainty in financial market on financial performance of the Group.

b.1) Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk that counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Group. Financial instruments of the Group that will result in concentration of credit risk mainly include cash and cash equivalents and trade receivables. The Group's maximum exposure to credit risk is the same as the amounts recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

The Group has cash and cash equivalents at several financial institutions. The Group manages this risk by continuously evaluating the reliability of these financial institutions.

Credit risk arising from trade receivables is limited due to the large number of customers and the policy of the Group to limit the credit amount of customers. The Group generally prefers to collect cheques to increse the credit limits of its customers except its dealers.

b.2) Liquidity risk management

Ultimate control for liquidity risk management rests with the Board of Directors, which aims to maintain an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the Company's short, medium and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements.

The following tables detail the Company's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Company can be required to pay. The table includes both interest and principal cash flows.

b.3.1) Market risk management

The Group's activities expose it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. Foreign currency risk is managed through balancing the liabilities and receivables in foreign currencies.

Market risk exposures of the Group are measured using sensitivity analysis.

There has been no change to the Group's exposure to market risks or the manner in which it manages and measures the risk.

b.3.2) Foreign currency risk management

Transactions in foreign currencies expose the Group to foreign currency risk. Foreign currency risk is managed by balancing the liabilities and receivables in foreign currencies.

As of 31 December 2016 and 2015 the foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities of monetary and non-monetary items are as follows:

	31 December 2017
	USD	Euro	Total TL Equivalent

Net Foreign Currency Position	(544.573)	(27.073.665)	(87.612.680)

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 10% increase and decrease in USD, and EURO. 10% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the period end for a 10% change in foreign currency rates. A negative number indicates an decrease in profit or loss.

	USD Effect		EUR Effect

Profit or Loss	(281.026)	(81.276)	(182.611)	(3.140.549)

b.3.3) Interest rate risk management

The Group is exposed to interest rate risk as entities in the Group borrow funds at both fixed and floating interest rates. The risk is managed by the Group by maintaining an appropriate mix between fixed and floating rate borrowings. The related risks are managed through natural methods which are resulting from the netting of receivables and liabilities dependent to interest rates. The interest rates of financial assets and liabilities are stated in the related notes.

Interest rate sensitivity

The sensitivity analysis of financial instruments is presented below:

Interest Position Table

	31 December 2017	31 December 2016
Financial Instruments with Fixed Interest Rate
Financial Borrowings	52.670.503	98.737.796
Other Financial Liabilities	5.963.748	25.341.121
Financial Instruments with Floating Interest Rate
Financial Borrowings	126.391.844	13.486.413

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for both derivatives and non-derivative instruments at the balance sheet date. For floating rate liabilities, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of liability outstanding at the balance sheet date was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's:

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS REPORT ON FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Erkunt Traktör Sanayi A.Ş., which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2017, the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2017, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Code of Ethics for Independent Auditors issued by Public Oversight, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

In an independent audit, the responsibilities of us independent auditors are:

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We have informed those charged with governance that we have complied with the ethical provisions regarding independence. We have also communicated to all those charged with governance all relations and other matters that may be considered to have an effect on independence and, if any, relevant measures.

Among the issues that are reported to those charged with governance, we specify the most important issues in the independent audit of the financial statements of the current period, namely the key audit topics. We may decide not report relevant matter if the legislation does not allow the disclosure of the matter to the public or if there are exceptional circumstances where it is reasonably expected to have negative outcomes on public interest.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

1) In accordance with the fourth paragraph of Article 402 of the Turkish Commercial Code, no material issue has been found regarding the bookkeeping schedule of the Company for the period 1 January - 31 December 2017, which does not conform to the financial statements of the Company and the Articles of Association.

2) In accordance with the fourth paragraph of Article 402 of the Turkish Commercial Code, the Board of Directors has made the required explanations within the scope of the audit and issued the requested documents.

Expected useful life residual value and amortization method are reviewed every year for possible effects of changes in estimates and are accounted for on a prospective basis if there is a change in estimates. The depreciation rates determined by considering the useful lives of the tangible assets are as follows:

Type	Useful Life (Year)
Buildings	10-50 years
Land improvements	10-25 years
Machinery, Plant and Equipment	3-24 years
gVehicles	3-14 years
Fixtures	2-50 years
Other Tangible Fixed Assets	2-20 years

The expected useful life residual value and amortization method is reviewed every year for the possible effects of the changes emerged in the predictions and if there is a change in the forecasts, it is recognized prospectively.

2.08.05 Intangible Assets and Goodwill

	Useful Life (Year)
Rights	3-15 years
Research and Development Expenditure	5-15 years
Leasehold Improvements	2-10 years

When the assets which it takes a substantial amount of time to make ready for usage and selling are in question, the borrowing costs which can be directly correlated with purchasing, making or production are had to be included in the cost of the asset until the related asset is made ready for usage or selling. The financial investment income, obtained by using the part of the credit, related with the credit, not spent yet in the financial investments for a temporary period is offset from the borrowing costs suitable for capitalization. All of the other borrowing costs are recorded in the income statement in the period when they occur. The company does not have any financing costs capitalized during the period.

2.08.07 Impairment of Assets

The assets which have infinite life are not subjected to amortization. The impairment test is applied for these assets. For the assets subjected to amortization, in case that situations or events take place where it is not possible to recover the book value, test of impairment of assets is applied. In case that the book value of the asset exceeds the recoverable value, the provision for impairment is made and recorded. The recoverable amount is the bigger one of the realistic value obtained after deducing the costs of sale and the value in usage. In order to evaluate the value lowness, the assets are grouped in the lowest level where there are cash flows which can be defined separately. The assets which are not financial, which are subjected to the impairment are reviewed for the possible cancellation of the impairment of assets in every reporting date.

2.08.08 Effect of Changes in the Exchange Rates

Foreign currency transactions realized during the year are translated into Turkish Lira at the date of the transactions. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Turkish Lira at the rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Foreign exchange gains/losses arising from the translation and collection of foreign currency transactions are included in the income statement.

The Company's financial statements are presented in the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates. The financial performance and operating results of the Company are expressed in TL, which is the functional currency.

Transactions in foreign currencies during the preparation of the Company's financial statements are recorded based on the exchange rates at the transaction date. Monetary assets and liabilities indexed at the balance sheet are translated into Turkish Lira at the rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Turkish Lira based on the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items in foreign currency measured in terms of historical cost are not retranslated. Exchange differences are recognized as profit or loss in the period in which they incur.

2.08.09 Taxes Calculated on the Corporate Profit

Income tax expense/revenue is represented by sum of the current tax expense/revenue and deferred tax expense (or revenue).

Current tax

Current year's tax liability is calculated on the taxable portion of the profit for the period. Taxable profit does not include income or expense items taxable or deductible in the other years and items which are not taxable or deductible, so it differs from the profit stated in the income statement. The company's current tax liability was calculated by the tax rate legalized or substantially legalized as of the date of balance sheet.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax liability or asset are defined by calculating tax effects of temporary differences between amounts of the assets and liabilities indicated in the financial statements and their amounts considered in calculation of the legal tax base according to the balance sheet method by considering the legalized tax rates.

Deferred tax liabilities are calculated for all taxable temporary differences but deferred tax assets represented by deductible temporary differences are calculated provided that it is highly probable to benefit from such differences by gaining taxable profit in the future. No deferred tax liability or asset is calculated for temporary timing differences caused by inclusion of assets or liabilities, other than goodwill or business mergers, in the financial statements for the first time and which do not affect both trade and financial profit or loss.

Deferred tax liabilities are calculated for all of taxable temporary differences which are associated with investments in the affiliates and subsidiaries and shares in business partnerships except for any cases where the Company may control elimination of the temporary differences and there is a low possibility for elimination of such different in the near future. Deferred tax assets arising from the taxable temporary differences associated with such investments and shares are calculated provided that it is highly probable to benefit from these differences by gaining sufficient taxable profit in the near future and it is possible to eliminate such differences in the future.

Book value of deferred tax asset is reviewed as of each date of balance sheet. Book value of deferred tax asset is reduced to the extent that it is not possible to gain financial profit at a level to allow for acquisition of the benefit to be provided by all or part of it.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated on the tax rates (tax adjustments) expected to be effective in the period when the asset are realized or the liabilities are satisfied and legalized or substantially legalized as of the date of balance sheet. During calculation of deferred tax assets and liabilities, tax results of the methods estimated by the Company for recovering book values of the assets as of the date of balance sheet or satisfaction of its liabilities are considered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities ate set off if there is a legal right to set off the current tax assets against the current tax liabilities or such assets and liabilities are associated with the income tax collected by the same tax authority or the Company intends to pay them by setting off the current tax assets against the current tax liabilities.

Current and deferred tax for the period

Except for those associated with the items directly recognized as a receivable or debt in the equity (in this case, deferred tax for the relevant items is also recognized in the equity directly) or arising from the first recognition of business mergers, the current tax and deferred tax for the period are recognized as an income or expense in the income statement. In business mergers, tax effect is considered in calculation of goodwill or calculation of the portion of the share acquired by the purchaser at the fair value of the definable assets, liabilities and contingent payables of the purchased affiliate in excess of the purchasing cost.

The taxes in the financial statements include the change in the current period taxes and deferred taxes. The Company calculates current and deferred tax on the results of the period.

Netting tax assets and liabilities

The amounts of corporate tax payable are defined as net amounts as they are associated with the pre-paid corporate tax amounts.

2.08.10 Trade payables

The finance income included in the liabilities is calculated by considering the effective interest rate of the related debt and the effective interest rate, and the amounts are shown in the financial statements.

2.08.11 Leasing transactions

I) Financial leasing transactions

Financial leases are described which the lessor retains all the risks and benefits pertaining to the goods. Financial leases are taken into the accounts according to lower current market value or minimum lease payments. The liability arising from a financial leasing transaction is separated into interest payable and principal debt in order to determine a fixed interest rate on the remaining balance. The costs and expenses incurred at the initial acquisition of the fixed asset subject to financial leasing are added to the cost.

II) Operational leasing transactions

Rental contracts in which the lessor holds all risks and benefits of the property are called operational leases.

Company as leaseholder:

Operational leasing payments are charged to the record as expense according to the normal method during the lease term. As of December 31, 2017 the operating lease expense is TL 260,987 (4,243,648.62 Rs) (31.12. 2016: TL 174,900) (31.12. 2016: 2,873,874 Rs)

2.08.12 Retirement and Provision for Severance Pay

As required by the labor law valid in Turkey, the retirement and indemnity provisions are allocated as they incur in the financial statements attached. According to the UMS 19 “Benefits provided to the employees”, which was updated, the payments of the type in question are characterized as described retirement benefit plans.

In the attached financial statements, the seniority indemnity liability is reflected to the financial statements as the amount found by discounting with the suitable interest rate, purified of the inflation rate, in order to calculate the value of the retirement indemnity to be paid in the future years in the date of the balance sheet.

2.08.13 Investments in Affiliates

Investments in Affiliates are accounted for by the equity method of accounting. These are entities over which the Group generally has between 20% and 50% of voting rights or has significant influence, but does not have control on these affiliates’ operations. Unrealized gains that result from intercompany transactions between the Group and its Associates are eliminated on consolidation, whereas unrealized losses are eliminated unless they do not address any impairment. Equity accounting is discontinued when the carrying amount of the investment in an Associate reaches zero, unless the Group has incurred obligations or guaranteed obligations in respect of the Associates. Such Associates are accounted at fair value if the fair value can be determined objectively; otherwise, they are accounted at cost.

According to equity method of accounting, subsidiaries are recorded initially at acquisition cost, and subsequently the amount of the parent’s interest in the associate’s shareholders’ equity is reflected to financial statements by either adding the increase in the amount to the investment amount or subtracting the losses from the investment amount.

2.08.14,01 Financial assets

The financial investments are recognized over the amount remained after deducing the expenditures which can be directly correlated with the purchasing transaction from the realistic value, except the financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss and which are put into the records over the realistic value. The investments are put into the records or removed from the records in the date of the transaction which depends on a contract which carry the delivery condition of the investment instrument according to the period determined by the related market. The financial assets are classified as the “financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss”, the “financial assets held until maturity”, the “financial assets, ready for selling”, and the “credits and receivables.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is the method of valuing the financial asset with the amortized cost and distributing the related interest income to the period with which it is related. The efficient interest rate is the ratio which reduces the predicted cash total to be collected in the expected life of the financial instrument or, if it is suitable, during a shorter time period to the net present day value of the related financial asset.

The revenues related with the financial assets classified outside than the financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss are calculated by using the efficient interest method.

a) The financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss

The financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss are the financial assets, which are held for trading. When a financial asset is acquired for disposing of in the short term, it is classified in the category in question. The financial assets mentioned, which form the derivative products, which are not determined as an efficient hedging instrument are classified as the financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss. The assets included in this category are classified as current assets.

b) The financial assets held until maturity

The borrowing instruments, with constant maturity, which the Company has the means and intent to hold until maturity, having a constant or determinable payment plan are classified as the financial assets to be held until maturity. The investments to be held until maturity are put into the records by deducing the value lowness amount from the amortized cost amount according to the efficient interest method and the related revenues are calculated by using efficient interest rate.

c) The financial assets ready for sale

The financial assets ready for sale consist of the financial assets which are not financial assets to be held until maturity or with trading purpose. The financial assets ready for sale are valued with realistic value provided that they can be reliably measured after put into the records. The securities, the realistic value of which can't be measured reliably and which don't have an active market, are indicated with cost value. The profits or losses, related with the financial assets ready for sale, are included in the income statement of the related period. The changes taken place in the fair value such assets are indicated in the equity accounts. In case that the related asset is disposed of or there is impairment, the amount in the equity accounts is transferred to the income statement as profit/loss. Provision for Impairment which is arisen from the investments for the financial instruments based on equity which are classified as financial asset ready for sale and which is recognized in the income statement may not be cancelled in the income statement in the subsequent periods. Except the financial instruments based on equity, which is classified as ready for sale, if the impairment loss decreases in the next period and the decrease can be correlated with an event which occurs after the recognition of the impairment loss, the impairment loss, recognized beforehand, may be cancelled in the income statement. The Company doesn't have a financial asset ready for sale.

d) Credits and receivables

Trade, other receivables and credits, which have constant and determinable payments, not transacted in the market, are classified in this category. The credits and receivables are indicated by deducing impairment amount over the cost discounted by using the effective interest method.

Impairment of financial assets

The financial assets or financial asset companies, other than the financial assets, the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss, are subjected to evaluation on whether there are indicators or not that they subjected to impairment in every date of balance sheet. In case that one or more than one incident occurs after the first recognition of the financial asset and there are an objective indicator that the related financial asset is subjected to impairment as a negative result of the incident in questions on the future cash flows of the financial asset or asset group, which can be predicted reliably, the impairment loss occurs.

The impairment amount for the credits and receivables is the difference between the present day value of the predicted cash flows expected in the future calculated by discounting over the effective interest rate of the financial asset and its book value.

Except the commercial receivables which the book value is decreased through using a reserve account, for all financial assets, the impairment is directly deduced from the recorded value of the related financial asset. In case that the commercial receivable can't be collected, the amount in question is discarded by deducing from the reserve account. The changes in the reserve account are recognized in the income statement.

Except the financial instruments based on equity, ready for sale, if the impairment loss decreases in the next period and if the decrease can be correlated with an incident taking place after the recognition of the impairment loss, the impairment loss, recognized beforehand is cancelled in the income statement such that it doesn't exceed the amortized cost amount which it would reach if the impairment of the investment never recognized in the date when the impairment is to be cancelled.

The increase occurred after the impairment of the realistic value of the financial instruments based on equity, ready for sale is recognized directly in the equities.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent items are the cash, current account and the other short term investments, with the maturities of three months or less than three months as from the purchasing date, which can be converted into cash immediately and which do not have impairment risk substantially and high liquidity.

2.08.14,02 Financial Liabilities

The financial obligations and equity instruments of the Company are classified based on the arrangements based on contract, the description principle of an instrument depending on a financial obligation and equity. The contract representing the right on the assets, remained after deducing all liabilities of the Company is a financial instrument based on equity. The accounting policies which can be applied for certain financial obligations and financial instruments based on equity are stated below.

The financial liabilities are classified as the financial liabilities the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss or the other financial liabilities.

a) The financial liabilities the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss

The financial liabilities the realistic value difference of which is reflected to the profit or loss are recorded with the realistic value and revalued with the realistic value in the date of the balance sheet in every reporting period. The change in the realistic value is recognized in the income statement. The net gains or losses recognized in the income statement also cover the amount of the interest paid for the financial liability in question.

b) The other financial liabilities

The other financial liabilities are recognized with the realistic value, purified of the transaction costs at the start. The other financial liabilities are recognized over the cost amount which is amortized by using the efficient interest method together with the interest cost calculated over the efficient interest rate in the subsequent periods.

The efficient interest method is the method of calculating the amortized costs of the financial liability and distributing the related interest expenditure to the period with which it is related. The efficient interest rate is the ratio which reduces the predicted cash total to be paid in the expected life of the financial instrument or, if it is suitable, during a shorter time period to the net present day value of the related financial liability.

2.08.15 Provisions, Contingent liabilities and assets

If the Company has a liability arising from the past events, sources involving economic benefit may be disposed from the Company for satisfaction of such liability and amount of such liability may be estimated reliably, the relevant liability is included in the financial statements as a provision. Contingent liabilities are always subject to assessment for finding if the possibility of disposing the sources involving economic benefit from the Company is possible. If the possibility of disposing the sources involving economic benefit from the Company occurs for the items processed as a contingent liability in the future, such contingent liability is included in the financial statements for the period of the change in the possibility as a provision except for the circumstances of failure in reliable estimate.

The Company indicates such liability in the notes if the contingent liabilities become possible but it is not possible to reliably estimate amount of the sources involving economic benefit. Any asset which arises from the past events and shall be confirmed by finding if one or more unclear event(s) existence of which is not fully under the control of the Company is considered as a contingent asset. The contingent assets are disclosed in the notes in case of a high possibility of the Company's acquisition of the sources involving economic benefit.

Where it is expected that all or part of the economic benefits used to pay the amount of provision are covered by the third parties, is recognized as an asset if this amount shall be repaid finally and the amount is calculated reliably.

2.08.16 Related Parties

For the purpose of these financial statements, partners, senior level directors and members of the board of directors, their families and the companies controlled by them or their affiliates, subsidiaries and partnerships are considered and stated as related parties. The transactions entered into with the related parties because of the ordinary activities were performed with the prices compatible with the market conditions. The detailed description performed with the related parties is given in the Note. 37.

2.08.17 Recording incomes

Revenues

Revenue is recognized when it is probable that an economic result will be obtained from the operations of the Company and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably. Revenues, deductions, value added tax and sales taxes are clearly shown after deduction. The following criteria must be met in order for income to be generated.

İncome derived from the sale of goods is recognized when the following conditions are satisfied:

- The revenue amount can be measured reliably,
- It is possible that the economic benefits related with the transaction will be obtained by the enterprise,
- The level of completion of the transaction can be measured reliably as of the end of the reporting period, and;
- The costs incurred and required for completing the transaction can be measured reliably.

2.08.18 Cash Flow Statement

Cash and cash equivalents are the cash money, current account and the other short termed investments, the maturity of 3 months or less than 3 months as from the purchasing date, which can be converted into cash immediately and don't have a substantial amount of value change risk, with a high liquidity.

In the cash flow statement, the cash flows related with the period are classified and reported based on the operation, investment and financial activities.

The cash flows arisen from the operational activities indicates the cash flows arisen from the main activities of the Company. The cash flows related with the investment activities indicate the cash flows which the Company uses and obtains in the investment activities (asset investments and financial investments). The cash flows related with the finance activities indicate the resources which the Company uses in the finance activities and the repayment of these resources.

2.08.19 Profit/loss per share

Profit per share is determined by dividing the net profit to the weighted average number of the shares existing in the related period.

The companies in Turkey can increase their capitals through "bonus share" they distributed from the previous year profits to the shareholders. When the profit per share is calculated, this bonus share issuance is considered as issued shares.

Therefore the weighted number of share average used for the profit per share is obtained by retrospectively applying the bonus issuance of the shares.

2.08.20 Events after balance sheet date

It refers the events emerging on behalf of or on the detriment to the Company between the date of the balance sheet and the date of authorization for publishing the balance sheet. In case that there are new evidences that the events in question exist as of the date of balance sheet or the related events emerge after the date of the balance sheet, the Company describes the issues in question in the Note. 40.

The Company, in case that events requiring correction emerge after the date of the balance sheet, corrects the amounts put into the financial statements according to this new situation.

2.10 New and Revised Turkish Financial Reporting Standards

New effective standards, revisions and comments as of December 31, 2017 are below:

New and Revised International Financial Reporting Standarts

Standards, interpretations and amendments to existing standards that are issued but not yet effective up to the date of issuance of the financial statements are as follows. The Company will make the necessary changes if not indicated otherwise, which will be affecting the financial statements and disclosures, after the new standards and interpretations become in effect.

IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The new standard replaces existing IFRS and US GAAP guidance and introduces a new control-based revenue recognition model for contracts with customers. In the new standard, total consideration measured will be the amount to which the Company expects to be entitled, rather than fair value and new guidance have been introduced on separating goods and services in a contract and recognising revenue over time. The standard is ef0fective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018, with early adoption permitted under IFRS. The Company is assessing the potential impact on its financial statements resulting from the application of IFRS 15.

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

IFRS 9, published in July 2014, replaces the existing guidance in IAS 39 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement". IFRS 9 includes revised guidance on the classification and measurement of financial instruments, a new expected credit loss model for calculating impairment on financial assets, and new general hedge accounting requirements. It also carries forward the guidance on recognition and derecognition of financial instruments from IAS 39. IFRS 9 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018, with early adoption permitted. The Company is assessing the potential impact on its financial statements resulting from the application of IFRS 9.

Amendments to IFRS 2 – Classification and Measurement of Share-based Payment Transactions

IFRS 2 Share-Based Payment has been amended by IASB to improving consistency and resolve some long-standing ambiguities in share-based payment accounting. The amendments cover three accounting areas: i) measurement of cash-settled share-based payments, ii) classification of share-based payments settled net of tax withholdings; and iii) accounting for modification of a share-based payment from cash-settled to equity-settled. Also, same approach has been adopted for the measurement of cash-settled share-based payments as equity-settled share-based payments. If certain conditions are met, share-based payments settled net of tax withholdings are accounted for as equity-settled share-based payments. The amendments are effective for periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018, with earlier application permitted. The Company does not expect that application of these amendments to IFRS 2 will have significant impact on its financial statements.

Improvements to IFRSs

The IASB issued Annual Improvements to IFRSs - 2014–2016 Cycle. The amendments are effective as of 1 January 2018. Earlier application is permitted. The Company does not expect that application of these improvements to IFRSs will have significant impact on its financial statements.

Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2014-2016 Cycle

IFRS 1 "First Time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards"

IFRS 1 is amended to clarify that the deletion of short-term exemptions for first-time adopters within the context of 'Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2012-2014 Cycle' related to disclosures for financial instruments, employee benefits and consolidation of investment entities.

IAS 28 "Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures"

The amendment enable when an investment in an associate or a joint venture is held by, or is held indirectly through, an entity that is a venture capital organization, or a mutual fund, unit trust and similar entities including investment-linked insurance funds, the entity may elect to measure that investment at fair value through profit or loss in accordance with IFRS 9.

IAS 40 – Transfers of Investment Property

Amendments to IAS 40 - Transfers of Investment Property issued by IASB have been made to clarify uncertainty about that provide evidence of transfer of/from investment property to other asset groups. A change in management's intentions for the use of property does not provide evidence of a change in intended use. Therefore, when an entity decides to dispose of an investment property without development, it continues to treat the property as an investment property until it is derecognized (eliminated from the statement of financial position) and does not reclassify it as inventory. Similarly, if an entity begins to redevelop an existing investment property for continued future use as investment property, the property remains an investment property and is not reclassified as owner-occupied property during the redevelopment. The amendment is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 with earlier application is permitted. The Company is assessing the potential impact on its financial statements resulting from the application of the amendments to IAS 40.

IFRIC 22 – Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration

On 8 December 2016, IASB issued IFRIC 22 Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration to clarify the accounting for transactions that include the receipt or payment of advance consideration in a foreign currency. The Interpretation covers foreign currency transactions when an entity recognizes a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the payment or receipt of advance consideration before the entity recognizes the related asset, expense or income. The date of the transaction, for the purpose of determining the exchange rate, is the date of initial recognition of the non-monetary prepayment asset or deferred income liability. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, a date of transaction is established for each payment or receipt. This IFRIC is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018 with earlier application is permitted. The Company is assessing the potential impact on its financial statements resulting from the application of IFRIC 22.

IFRS 16 Leases

On 13 January 2016, IASB published the new leasing standard which will replace IAS 17 Leases, IFRIC 4 Determining Whether an Arrangement Contains a Lease, SIC 15 Operating Leases – Incentives, and SIC 27 Evaluating the Substance of Transactions Involving the Legal Form of a Lease and consequently changes to IAS 40 Investment Properties. IFRS 16 eliminates the current dual accounting model for lessees, which distinguishes between on-balance sheet finance leases and off-balance sheet operating leases. Instead, there is a single, on-balance sheet accounting model that is similar to current finance lease accounting. Lessor accounting remains similar to current practice. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019, with early adoption permitted provided that an entity also adopts IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The Company is assessing the potential impact on its financial statements resulting from the application of IFRS 16.

IFRIC 23 –Uncertainty Over Income Tax Treatments

On 17 June 2017, IASB issued IFRIC 23 Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments to specify how to reflect uncertainty in accounting for income taxes. It may be unclear how tax law applies to a particular transaction or circumstance, or whether a taxation authority will accept a company's tax treatment. IAS 12 Income Taxes specifies how to account for current and deferred tax, but not how to reflect the effects of uncertainty. IFRIC 23 provides requirements that add to the requirements in IAS 12 by specifying how to reflect the effects of uncertainty in accounting for income taxes. The Interpretation is effective from 1 January 2019 with earlier application is permitted. The Company is assessing the potential impact on its financial statements resulting from the application of IFRIC 23.

IFRS 17 –Insurance Contracts

On 18 May 2017, IASB issued IFRS 17 Insurance Contracts. This first truly international standard for insurance contracts will help investors and others better understand insurers' risk exposure, profitability and financial position. IFRS 17 replaces IFRS 4, which was brought in as an interim Standard in 2004. IFRS 4 has given companies dispensation to carry on accounting for insurance contracts using national accounting standards, resulting in a multitude of different approaches. As a consequence, it is difficult for investors to compare and contrast the financial performance of otherwise similar companies. IFRS 17 solves the comparison problems created by IFRS 4 by requiring all insurance contracts to be accounted for in a consistent manner, benefiting both investors and insurance companies. Insurance obligations will be accounted for using current values – instead of historical cost. The information will be updated regularly, providing more useful information to users of financial statements. IFRS 17 has an effective date of 1 January 2021 but companies can apply it earlier. The Company does not expect that application of IFRS 17 will have significant impact on its financial statements.

Provision for Severance Payments	1,356,761	22,060,934	775,797	12,614,459

In accordance with the provisions of the Labor Law in effect, it is obligatory to pay the legal severance pays entitled by those of employees whose employment contracts are terminated with a right of severance pay. These indemnities are calculated on the wage for 30 days per working year based on the wage on the date of resignation or dismissal. Severance pay payable as of December 31, 2017 is subject to the ceiling of TL 5,001.76 (81,328.62 Rs) (31.12.2016: TL 4,297,21). (31.12.2016: 69,872.63 Rs)

The severance pay liability is not subject to any funding legally.

The severance pay liability is calculated according to estimate of present value of future possible liability of the Company due to retirement of the employees. TMS 19 ("Benefits to Employees") stipulates development of liabilities by using the actuarial valuation methods under the defined benefit plans. Accordingly, the actuarial assumptions used in calculation of total liabilities are stated below:

The principal assumption is that the maximum liability for each year of service will increase in line with inflation. Therefore, the discount rate applied represents the expected real rate after the correction of future inflation effects. At 31 December 2017, the provision in the accompanying financial statements is calculated by estimating the present value of the future probable obligation of the Company arising from the retirement of the employees. As of 31 December 2017, the provision is calculated with a annual inflation rate of 10,50%, interest rate of 11,50%, and real discount rate of %3,51.

The movements of the provision for severance pay during the period are as follows:

ii) Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is determined by calculating the temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the amounts considered in the statutory tax base, taking into account the tax rates of the tax effects according to the balance sheet method.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences, whereas deferred tax assets resulting from deductible temporary differences are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized. Deferred tax liabilities or assets arising from the initial recognition of assets or liabilities other than goodwill or business combinations in respect of temporary timing differences that do not affect both the commercial and financial profit or loss are not recognized.

Deferred tax liabilities are calculated for all taxable temporary differences that are attributable to investments in subsidiaries and associates and joint ventures, except where the Company is able to control the reversal of temporary differences and the probability of such reversal in the near future is low. Deferred income tax assets resulting from taxable temporary differences associated with such investments and shares are calculated on the condition that it is highly probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible income can be utilized and that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated over the tax rates (tax regulations) that are enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date that are expected to be valid for the period when the assets are realized or the liabilities are fulfilled. During the calculation of deferred tax assets and liabilities, the tax consequences of the Company's method of recovering its carrying amount or estimating its carrying value as of the balance sheet date are taken into account.

Interest Risk

The Company is exposed to an interest rate risk arising from the impact of changes in the interest rates of the underlying assets and liabilities. The risk is managed by natural hedges that balance the assets and liabilities with interest rate sensitivity. The Company carries out studies to ensure that borrowing is done at the most favorable rates to minimize the interest rate risk.

The Company's interest position table as of 31 December 2017 and 31 December 2016 is as follows:

Fixed Interest Financial Instruments	31.12.2017 (FC)	31.12.2017 (Rs)	31.12.2016 (FC)	31.12.2016 (Rs)

Since the Company does not have any variable rate instruments as of December 31, 2017 and December 31, 2016, there is no interest rate risk.

Price Risk

Price risk is due to exchange rate, interest rate and market risk. The Group manages this risk by receiving foreign currency and balancing its liabilities and interest bearing assets and liabilities. Market risk is closely monitored by the Group's management through current market information and appropriate valuation methods.

Capital Management

In capital management, the Group aims to increase its profit by using the balance of debt and equity most efficiently while trying to maintain the continuity of its activities on the one hand. The Group's capital structure consists of debt, cash and cash equivalents and equity, and equity items including profit reserves.

Risks associated with each capital class together with the cost of capital of the Group are assessed by the Group's senior management. During these reviews, senior management evaluates the risks associated with each class of capital together with the cost of capital and submits to the Board of Directors the ones that are subject to the decision of the Board of Directors.

The Group's general strategy is not different from Previous Period.

Fair Value

Fair value is the amount at which an asset is traded between willing parties in a current transaction.

Financial assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign exchange rates that approximate the market prices at the balance sheet date.

The following methods and assumptions are used in estimating the fair value of each financial instrument when it is possible to determine the fair value.

Financial Assets

Due to their short-term nature and being subject to insignificant credit risk, it is considered that they are close to the fair values of cash and cash equivalents and the carrying values of accrued interest and other financial assets. Trade receivables are considered to approximate their fair values subsequent to the original provision for doubtful receivables.

Financial Liabilities

Due to their short-term nature, trade payables and other monetary liabilities are considered to approximate their carrying values. Bank loans are stated at discounted cost and transaction costs are added to the initial cost of the loans. It is considered that the fair values of the loans are expressed by the values they bear because the interest rates on them are updated considering the changing market conditions. Due to their short-term nature, it is foreseen that the fair value of trade payables is close to the value they bear.

39. Financial instruments (realistic value explanations and descriptions in the framework of the hedging accounting)

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is determined as follows:

– Level 1: Financial assets and liabilities are valued at quoted prices traded on the active market for the same assets and liabilities.

– Level 2: Financial assets and liabilities are valued at inputs that are used to determine the price of the asset or liability that is observable directly or indirectly in the market, other than the quoted price at the first level.

– Level 3: Financial assets and liabilities are valued at inputs that are not based on observable inputs in the market for the fair value of an asset or liability.

Fair value is the amount at which a financial instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than a compulsory sale or liquidation, and is best determined by a market price, if any.

The estimated fair values of financial instruments are determined using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. However, in the interpretation of market data in the fair value estimation, discretion is used. Consequently, the estimates presented herein are not necessarily indicative of the amounts the Company could realize in a current market exchange.

40. Events after balance sheet date

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

2017 Overview

The world economy has reached the highest growth rate of the recent seven (7) years in spite of the geopolitical tensions and the political risks. The unemployment rates in America and in the Europe decreased to the lowest levels since the global crisis. In the report which is published in January of the year 2018 by IMF, it is stated that the improvement in the increasing investment expenditures, industrial production and the commercial volume supported the economic recovery at the global scale.

Turkey started the year 2017 with political, social and economic problems which were transferred from the previous year. The negative events which were caused by the coup attempt, the continuing scope of the State of Emergency (OHAL) period, the adverse effects and influences of the shooting of the Russian airplane, the referendum process, the problems which are encountered in the tourism sector, the negative influences of the visa crisis with USA and the negative effects of the Zarrab Case became the headlines of the year.

During the first hours of the year 2017, there was a terrorist attack in a nightclub in Istanbul and thirty nine civilian lost their lives.

The major state owned organizations such as Ziraat Bankası, Borsa Istanbul (Istanbul Stock Exchange), Botaş, Türksat and Eti Maden (Eti Mining) were transferred into the Wealth Fund which was created for the purpose of gains for the economy, providing foreign resources and participating in the strategic and major investments properly. Afterwards, the 51% of Halk Bankası and 49% of THY (Turkish Airlines) were transferred into that fund as well.

While the preparations for the referendum continued, a political meeting crisis was experienced with Holland and the diplomatic relationships between these two countries almost came to a halt.

The parliamentary system which was implemented from the beginning of the foundation of the Republic was changed to a system called the "Presidential Administration System" by means of a referendum.

The most important economic crisis of the recent years was experienced in the Gulf countries which are rich of petroleum and natural gas. Saudi Arabia, Egypt, United Arabic Emirates and Bahrain and then Yemen, Libya and Maldives announced that they stopped their diplomatic relations with Qatar. The flights to Qatar were also stopped, the ports were closed for the vessels with the Qatar visas and even some of the Egyptian Banks suspended the money transfers into Qatar.

While we approached the end of the year, USA announced their decision to stop giving visas to Turkish citizens through their consulates in Turkey. The tension returned to the normal within a few months.

Turkish Economy achieved a growth rate which was higher than expectations with the support of the incentives and subsidies such as tax discounts, Social Security Organization incentives, Special Consumption Tax discount and the KGF (Credit Security Fund) credits in particular. A growth rate of 11.1% was recorded in comparison with the same period of the previous year in the first three quarters of the year 2017. The inflation was 11.9 annually for TÜFE (Consumers Prices Index) and 15.5% for ÜFE (Producers Prices Index). The unemployment rate was 10.3% which was higher in comparison with the end of the month of November of the previous year.

Turkey had been administered with a State of Emergency (OHAL) regime for the last one and half years. At the same time, we were at the heart of an actual war that was continuing in the Middle East. This situation influenced not only the foreign investors but also the tourism sector quite negatively. Our opinion is that the year 2018 shall not be an easy year for Turkey both economically and politically.

We would like to commemorate Erdoğan Nas, our dear friend and General Manager whom we lost to a tragic accident on 04th September, 2017. We shall not forget him for his positive approach to situations as well as the superior services he has performed at Erkunt since 1995.

2.09.09 Taxes Calculated on the Corporate Profit

Income tax expense/revenue is represented by sum of the current tax expense/revenue and deferred tax expense (or revenue).

Current tax

Current year's tax liability is calculated on the taxable portion of the profit for the period. Taxable profit does not include income or expense items taxable or deductible in the other years and items which are not taxable or deductible. so it differs from the profit stated in the income statement. The company's current tax liability was calculated by the tax rate legalized or substantially legalized as of the date of balance sheet.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax liability or asset are defined by calculating tax effects of temporary differences between amounts of the assets and liabilities indicated in the financial statements and their amounts considered in calculation of the legal tax base according to the balance sheet method by considering the legalized tax rates.

Deferred tax liabilities are calculated for all taxable temporary differences but deferred tax assets represented by deductible temporary differences are calculated provided that it is highly probable to benefit from such differences by gaining taxable profit in the future. No deferred tax liability or asset is calculated for temporary timing differences caused by inclusion of assets or liabilities. other than goodwill or business mergers. in the financial statements for the first time and which do not affect both trade and financial profit or loss.

Deferred tax liabilities are calculated for all of taxable temporary differences which are associated with investments in the affiliates and subsidiaries and shares in business partnerships except for any cases where the Company may control elimination of the temporary differences and there is a low possibility for elimination of such different in the near future. Deferred tax assets arising from the taxable temporary differences associated with such investments and shares are calculated provided that it is highly probable to benefit from these differences by gaining sufficient taxable profit in the near future and it is possible to eliminate such differences in the future.

Book value of deferred tax asset is reviewed as of each date of balance sheet. Book value of deferred tax asset is reduced to the extent that it is not possible to gain financial profit at a level to allow for acquisition of the benefit to be provided by all or part of it.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated on the tax rates (tax adjustments) expected to be effective in the period when the asset are realized or the liabilities are satisfied and legalized or substantially legalized as of the date of balance sheet. During calculation of deferred tax assets and liabilities. tax results of the methods estimated by the Company for recovering book values of the assets as of the date of balance sheet or satisfaction of its liabilities are considered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are set off if there is a legal right to set off the current tax assets against the current tax liabilities or such assets and liabilities are associated with the income tax collected by the same tax authority or the Company intends to pay them by setting off the current tax assets against the current tax liabilities.

Current and deferred tax for the period

Except for those associated with the items directly recognized as a receivable or debt in the equity (in this case. deferred tax for the relevant items is also recognized in the equity directly) or arising from the first recognition of business mergers. the current tax and deferred tax for the period are recognized as an income or expense in the income statement. In business mergers. tax effect is considered in calculation of goodwill or calculation of the portion of the share acquired by the purchaser at the fair value of the definable assets. liabilities and contingent payables of the purchased affiliate in excess of the purchasing cost.

Similarly. if an entity begins to redevelop an existing investment property for continued future use as investment property. the property remains an investment property and is not reclassified as owner-occupied property during the redevelopment. SIC 15 Operating Leases – Incentives. and SIC 27 Evaluating the Substance of Transactions Involving the Legal Form of a Lease and consequently changes to TAS 40 Investment Properties. TFRS 16 eliminates the current dual accounting model for lessees. which distinguishes between on-balance sheet finance leases and off-balance sheet operating leases. Instead. there is a single. on-balance sheet accounting model that is similar to current finance lease accounting. Lessor accounting remains similar to current practice. This first truly international standard for insurance contracts will help investors and others better understand insurers' risk exposure. profitability and financial position. TFRS 17 replaces TFRS 4. which was brought in as an interim Standard in 2004. TFRS 4 has given companies dispensation to carry on accounting for insurance contracts using national accounting standards. resulting in a multitude of different approaches. As a consequence. it is difficult for investors to compare and contrast the financial performance of otherwise similar companies. TFRS 17 solves the comparison problems created by TFRS 4 by requiring all insurance contracts to be accounted for in a consistent manner. benefiting both investors and insurance companies. Insurance obligations will be accounted for using current values – instead of historical cost. The information will be updated regularly. providing more useful information to users of financial statements. TFRS 17 has an effective date of January 1, 2021 but companies can apply it earlier. i) Current Period Legal Provision for Tax Advance tax in Turkey is calculated and accrued quarterly. Accordingly. a provisional tax of 20% is calculated over the corporate earnings in the course of taxation of the Company's earnings for the year 2016 in the advance tax period.

Under Turkish tax law. losses can be carried forward for a maximum period of 5 years to be deducted from the taxable profit to be generated in future years. However. losses cannot be deducted retrospectively from profits from previous years.

The advance tax in Turkey is calculated and accrued by quarterly periods. In compliance with this. a tax at the rate of 20% was calculated over the earnings of the company at the stage of taxation of the earnings of the Company for 2017 within the advance tax period.

In Turkey. the corporate tax rate is 20% for 2017 (2016: 20%). However. the corporate tax rate of 20% shall be applied as 22% for the earnings of the company for the taxation periods of 2018, 2019 and 2020 of the companies (the account periods starting within the relevant year for the companies to which special account period is assigned) pursuant to the Provisional Article 10 added to the Corporate Tax Law.

Furthermore. a part of 75% of the earnings arising from the sale of the participation shares included in the assets of the companies for at least two full years and of the founding certificates. dividend right certificates and stock rights of their properties (immovable properties) which they own for the same period is exempt from the corporate tax as of 31 December, 2017. In addition to this. this rate was reduced from 75% to 50% in terms of the immovable properties with the amendment made with the law no 7061 and this rate shall be used as 50% in the tax returns to be prepared from 2018. Therefore. whereas 75% exemption was applied to the deferred tax liabilities regarding the revaluation value increase earnings of the tangible fixed assets before the relevant law amendment. this tax exemption was calculated and recognized by using the rate of 50% and considered as the comprehensive income/(expense) factor in the financial statements dated 31 December, 2017.

In accordance with the Turkish tax law. the losses can be carried forward for maximum 5 years in order to be deducted from the taxable profit to occur in the forthcoming years. However. the losses may not be deducted from the profits that occurred in the previous years. retrospectively.

Pursuant to the article 20 of the Corporate Tax Law. the Corporate Tax is levied upon the declaration of the taxpayer. There is no final and strict reconciliation procedure related to the tax assessment in Turkey. The companies prepare their tax returns until 25 April of the year following the account closure period of the relevant year. These returns and the accounting records which form the basis of these returns can be examined and changes within 5 years by the Tax Office.

The current tax provision of the Company is calculated as follows:

Income Tax Withholding:

In addition to the corporate tax. it is also required to calculate income tax withholding on dividends other than those distributed to the full taxpayer corporations which gained dividend and declared these dividends as a part of the corporate income and branches of foreign companies in Turkey if distributed. Income tax withholding rate was increased from 15% pursuant to the Cabinet Decree No. 2009/14592 published at the Official Gazette dated January 12, 2009.

ii) Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is determined by calculating the temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the amounts considered in the statutory tax base. taking into account the tax rates of the tax effects according to the balance sheet method.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences. whereas deferred tax assets resulting from deductible temporary differences are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized. Deferred tax liabilities or assets arising from the initial recognition of assets or liabilities other than goodwill or business combinations in respect of temporary timing differences that do not affect both the commercial and financial profit or loss are not recognized.

Deferred tax liabilities are calculated for all taxable temporary differences that are attributable to investments in subsidiaries and associates and joint ventures. except where the Company is able to control the reversal of temporary differences and the probability of such reversal in the near future is low. Deferred income tax assets resulting from taxable temporary differences associated with such investments and shares are calculated on the condition that it is highly probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible income can be utilized and that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized.

The carrying amount of the deferred tax asset is reviewed at each balance sheet date. The recorded value of the deferred tax asset is reduced to the extent that it is unlikely that it will be possible to obtain a financial profit that would allow the gain of the benefit to be provided in part or in full.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated over the tax rates (tax regulations) that are enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date that are expected to be valid for the period when the assets are realized or the liabilities are fulfilled. During the calculation of deferred tax assets and liabilities. the tax consequences of the Company's method of recovering its carrying amount or estimating its carrying value as of the balance sheet date are taken into account.

Due to the reason that the applicable tax rate was changed as 22% for 3 years as of 1 January, 2018 the tax rate of 22% was used for the temporary differences expected to be realized/closed within 3 years (within the years of 2018, 2019 and 2020) in the deferred tax calculation as of 31 December, 2017. However, as the applicable corporate tax rate is 20% for the period after 2020, the tax rate of 20% was used for the temporary differences expected to be realized/closed after 2020.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized when there is a legally recognized right to offset current tax assets or liabilities in current tax assets or when the related assets and liabilities are related to the income tax collected by the same tax authority or when there is an intention to pay by offsetting the Company's current tax assets and liabilities is deducted.

Fair Value

Fair value is the amount at which an asset is traded between willing parties in a current transaction.

Financial assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign exchange rates that approximate the market prices at the balance sheet date.

The following methods and assumptions are used in estimating the fair value of each financial instrument when it is possible to determine the fair value.

Financial Assets

Due to their short-term nature and being subject to insignificant credit risk. it is considered that they are close to the fair values of cash and cash equivalents and the carrying values of accrued interest and other financial assets. Trade receivables are considered to approximate their fair values subsequent to the original provision for doubtful receivables.

Financial Liabilities

Due to their short-term nature. trade payables and other monetary liabilities are considered to approximate their carrying values. Bank loans are stated at discounted cost and transaction costs are added to the initial cost of the loans. It is considered that the fair values of the loans are expressed by the values they bear because the interest rates on them are updated considering the changing market conditions. Due to their short-term nature. it is foreseen that the fair value of trade payables is close to the value they bear.

39. Financial instruments (realistic value explanations and descriptions in the framework of the hedging accounting)

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is determined as follows:

- Level 1: Financial assets and liabilities are valued at quoted prices traded on the active market for the same assets and liabilities.

- Level 2: Financial assets and liabilities are valued at inputs that are used to determine the price of the asset or liability that is observable directly or indirectly in the market. other than the quoted price at the first level.

- Level 3: Financial assets and liabilities are valued at inputs that are not based on observable inputs in the market for the fair value of an asset or liability.

There are no level classifications of assets and liabilities that are designated with their fair values (December 31, 2016: None).

Fair value is the amount at which a financial instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. other than a compulsory sale or liquidation. and is best determined by a market price. if any.

The estimated fair values of financial instruments are determined using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies. However. in the interpretation of market data in the fair value estimation. discretion is used. Consequently. the estimates presented herein are not necessarily indicative of the amounts the Company could realize in a current market exchange.

ECONOMY

Global

At 3.8 percent, global growth last year was 0.5 percentage point faster than in 2016 and the strongest since 2011. Two-thirds of countries accounting for about three-fourths of global output experienced faster growth in 2017 than in the previous year (the highest share of countries experiencing a year-over-year growth pickup since 2010). The preliminary outcome for global growth in 2017 was 0.2 percentage point stronger than forecast, in the October 2017 World Economic Outlook (WEO), with upside surprises in the second half of 2017 in advanced as well as emerging markets and developing economies.

Resurgent investment spending in advanced economies and an end to the investment decline in some commodity exporting emerging markets and developing economies were important drivers of the uptick in global GDP growth and manufacturing activity. Across advanced economies, the 0.6 percentage point pickup in 2017 growth relative to 2016 is explained almost entirely by investment spending, which remained weak since the 2008–09 global financial crisis and was particularly subdued in 2016. Both stronger gross fixed capital formation and an acceleration in stock building contributed to the pickup in investment, with accommodative monetary policy, stronger balance sheets, and an improved outlook helping release pent-up demand for capital goods.

Global growth is projected to strengthen from 3.8 percent in 2017 to 3.9 percent in 2018 and 2019, driven by a projected pickup in growth in emerging markets and developing economies and resilient growth in advanced economies. The forecast for 2018 and 2019 is stronger than in the October 2017 WEO by 0.2 percentage point for each year, with positive revisions compared with the October 2017 WEO for emerging markets and developing economies and especially for advanced economies. The global effects of US fiscal policy changes account for almost half of the global growth upgrade for 2018–19 compared with October. Beyond 2019, global growth is projected to gradually decline to 3.7 percent by the end of the forecast horizon. The slowdown is entirely because of advanced economies, where growth is projected to moderate in line with their modest potential growth; growth across emerging markets and developing economies is expected to stabilize close to the current level. Domestic Domestic economic activity shrugged off the loss of speed that had characterised the period Q1:2016-17 to Q1:2017-18 and a turning point appears to have taken hold in Q2-Q3, with lead indicators pointing to further acceleration in Q4. In terms of aggregate demand, the drivers around this inflexion are shifting, with consumption-led growth of the recent past handing over the baton to investment, which had restrained growth since Q3:2016-17. At the same time, the strong impetus from fiscal spending during Q3:2016-17 to Q1:2017-18 appears to be waning and the rapid pace of import growth is sapping net external demand. On the supply side, the pickup in industrial output from Q2:2017-18 and the strengthening of construction activity in the services sector from Q1 are noteworthy. Meanwhile, agriculture and allied activities have turned out to be resilient to temporary weather disruptions in both kharif and rabi sowing seasons and going by recent estimates of foodgrains production, the outlook appears better than before.

Consumer price inflation rose sharply in Q3:2017-18, driven up by a spike in food prices and by the disbursement of enhanced House Rent Allowance (HRA) for central government employees, the latter alone contributing an estimated 35 basis points. It moderated somewhat in Q4 on a delayed seasonal easing of prices of vegetables. Industrial input costs increased through H2:2017-18, tracking movements in international commodity prices. Wage pressures have remained moderate in both the organised and rural sectors. The increase in HRA for central government employees, which became effective from July 2017 and continued to accumulate till December 2017, shaped the path of headline inflation during Q3, with unseasonal hardening of prices of vegetables, accentuating a spike to 4.9 per cent in November. While prices of vegetables did undergo a shallower than usual moderation in December, an unfavourable base effect came into play, pulling up inflation to a peak of 5.2 per cent in December. In Q4, headline inflation moderated with a fall in momentum due to a delayed but steep reversal in prices of vegetables.

A stark feature of India's recent growth experience has been the protracted downturn in investment, however, a turnaround set in during Q2:2017-18. Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF) strengthened further to touch a six-quarter high in Q3. The share of GFCF in GDP, which was trapped in a downturn from a high of 34.3 per cent in 2011-12 to 30.3 per cent in 2015-16, broke free and increased to 31.4 per cent in 2017-18. As alluded to earlier, this pick-up in the investment rate could be signalling a turning point in the cyclical component of growth oscillations in India and if sustained by a determined policy push, it could produce a level shift in the trajectory of the Indian economy. Capital goods production – a key element of investment demand – turned around in August 2017 and clocked a 19-month high in terms of growth rates in January 2018. During 2017-18 so far (up to December), the construction of highway projects is on the rise and is expected to have improved further in Q4.

Going forward, a key risk to the inflation outlook is the risk of fiscal slippages in a scenario of rising aggregate demand. As noted in the MPC resolution of February 2018, apart from the direct impact on inflation, the fiscal risks could also engender a broader weakening of macro-financial conditions. The revised guidelines for arriving at the MSPs for kharif crops proposed in the Union Budget 2018-19, along with proposed increase in customs duty on a number of items, is likely to push-up inflation over the year. In addition, how various state governments implement and disburse HRA increases would have a considerable bearing on CPI housing inflation and consequently on the headline inflation trajectory, albeit statistically, during 2018-19; therefore, the latter should be looked through for monetary policy purposes, other than for their second-round effects. Although the central government's HRA effects on CPI inflation would gradually wane from July 2018, this moderating impact could be more than offset if several state governments simultaneously implement HRA increases in H2:2018-19. Finance

During the current year, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) held six Bi-monthly Monetary Policy Committee meetings. The Policy Repo rates under the Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) was at 6.25% at the beginning of the year. During the year, the RBI reduced the Policy Repo rates by 0.25% once in its third Bi-monthly Monetary Policy Committee meeting to 6.00% and since then maintained at such levels.

Yields in the government securities (G-Sec) has shown continuous increase through the year since the reduction of policy rates. Yields on the 10 year benchmark paper has increased by around 150 bps from the lows. A sharp reduction in G–Sec yields were seen in the month of March when the government announced its intent to reduce its borrowing in the first half. However the reduced rates were short lived and within a month the yields were higher than pre-announcement. An important element of the yield rising has been the continuous rise in the crude prices (nearing $80/barrel). The depreciation of rupee is not helping either which shall lead to inflationary pressure which together is resulting in rising yields.

- Private Placement Issues of Non-Convertible Debentures
  During the year under review, your Company issued secured redeemable non-convertible debentures ("NCDs") aggregating to Rs. 4,497.80 Crores on a private placement basis, in various tranches.

  As specified in the respective offer documents, the funds raised from NCDs were utilised for the purpose of financing, repayment of dues of other financial institutions/ Banks or for long term working capital.

- Public Issuance of Non-Convertible Debentures

  Your Company continues to broaden the liability mix by bringing in new instruments as well as diversifying the investor base and profile. During the year under review, your Company successfully raised Rs. 1,150.5 Crores through its second public issuance of 1,15,05,313 Unsecured Subordinated Redeemable Non-Convertible Debentures ("NCDs") of face value of Rs. 1,000 each. With this issuance, approximately 5% of your Company's borrowing is funded through this instrument. The NCDs were allotted on 24th July, 2017 and listed on BSE Limited on 26th July, 2017.

Prelude

The Company is a non-banking financial company registered with the Reserve Bank of India, and is engaged in providing financing for new and pre-owned auto and utility vehicles, tractors, cars and commercial vehicles, providing personal loans, finance to small and medium enterprises and mutual fund distribution services.

This Policy shall be effective from the financial year 2014 - 15.

Intent of the Policy

The intent of the Remuneration Policy of Directors of Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Limited ("the Company") is to focus on enhancing the value and to attract and retain quality individuals with requisite knowledge and excellence as Executive and Non-Executive Directors for achieving objectives of the Company and to place the Company in a leading position.

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee (NRC) of the Board shall, while formulating the policy ensure that:

a) the level and composition of remuneration is reasonable and sufficient to attract, retain and motivate Directors of the quality required to run the company successfully;

b) relationship of remuneration to performance is clear and meets appropriate performance benchmarks; and

c) remuneration to Directors, key managerial personnel and senior management involves a balance between fixed and incentive pay reflecting short and long-term performance objectives appropriate to the working of the Company and its goals.

While deciding the policy on remuneration of Directors, the Committee may consider amongst other things, the duties and responsibilities cast by the Companies Act, 2013, the Listing Agreement, various Codes of Conduct, Articles of Association, restrictions on the remuneration to Directors as also the remuneration drawn by Directors of other companies in the industry, the valuable contributions and inputs from Directors based on their knowledge, experience and expertise in shaping the destiny of the Company, etc. The Policy is guided by a reward framework and set of principles and objectives as more fully and particularly envisaged under Section 178 of the Companies Act, 2013 and principles pertaining to qualifications, positive attributes, integrity and independence of Directors, etc.

Directors

The Managing Director is an executive of the Company and draws remuneration from the Company. The Non-Executive Chairman and Independent Directors receive sitting fees for attending the meeting of the Board and the Committees thereof, as fixed by the Board of Directors from time to time, subject to statutory provisions. The Non-Executive Chairman and Independent Directors would be entitled to the remuneration under the Companies Act, 2013. Other Non-Executive Non-Independent Directors who receive remuneration from the holding company or a Group Company are not paid any sitting fees or any remuneration. In addition to the above, the Directors are entitled for reimbursement of expenses incurred in discharge of their duties.

Pursuant to the Employees Stock Option Scheme 2005 (ESOS 2005) the Company has granted Stock Options to Directors including Independent Directors. However, as per Section 149(9) of the Companies Act, 2013, henceforth the Independent Directors will not be entitled to fresh grant of any Stock Options.

The NRC while determining the remuneration shall ensure that the level and composition of remuneration to be reasonable and sufficient to attract, retain and motivate the person to ensure the quality required to run the Company successfully. While considering the remuneration, the NRC shall also ensure a balance between fixed and performance-linked variable pay reflecting short and long term performance objectives appropriate to the working of the Company and its goals.

The NRC shall consider that a successful Remuneration Policy must ensure that some part of the remuneration is linked to the achievement of corporate performance targets.

Managing Director/Executive Directors

The term of office and remuneration of Managing Director/ Executive Directors are subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, Shareholders, and Central Government, as may be required and the limits laid down under the Companies Act, 2013 from time to time.

If any Managing Director/Executive Director draws or receives, directly or indirectly by way of remuneration any such sums in excess of the limits prescribed under the Companies Act, 2013 or without the prior sanction of the Central Government, where required, he/she shall refund such sums to the Company and until such sum is refunded, hold it in trust for the Company. The Company shall not waive recovery of such sum refundable to it unless permitted by the Central Government.

Remuneration of the Managing Director/Executive Directors reflects the overall remuneration philosophy and guiding principle of the Company. While considering the appointment and remuneration of Managing Director/Executive Directors, the NRC shall consider the industry benchmarks, merit and seniority of the person and shall ensure that the remuneration proposed to be paid is commensurate with the remuneration packages paid to similar senior level counterpart(s) in other companies.

Remuneration for Managing Director/Executive Director is designed subject to the limits laid down under the Companies Act, 2013 to remunerate them fairly and responsibly. The total remuneration will have a flexible component with a bouquet of allowances to enable the Managing Director/ Executive Director to choose the allowances as well as the quantum, based on laid down limits as per Company policy. The flexible component can be varied only once annually.

The actual pay-out of variable component of the remuneration will be a function of individual performance as well as business performance. Business performance is evaluated using a Balanced Score Card (BSC) while individual performance is evaluated on Key Result Areas (KRA). Both the BSC and KRAs are evaluated at the end of the fiscal to arrive at the BSC rating of the business and performance rating of the individual.

2. ECONOMIC REVIEW

2.1 Global Economy

World growth strengthened in 2017 to 3.8%, with a notable rebound in global trade. It was driven by an investment recovery in advanced economies, continued strong growth in emerging Asia, a notable upswing in emerging Europe, and signs of recovery in several commodity exporters. At 3.8%, global growth in 2017 was the fastest since 2011. The US economy grew at 2.3%, accelerating from 1.5% in the preceding year. Labour market conditions improved further with the unemployment rate falling to a low of 4.1%. Industrial production also registered a robust growth driven largely by mining activity. These developments in conjunction with rising consumer confidence and higher disposable incomes due to tax rationalsation are expected to support growth. However, the impact of the tax justification on the fiscal balance and the ramifications of a potential trade war remain major risks to the outlook.

Economic activity in the euro area continued to expand at a solid pace in H2, marking 2017 as one of the best years for the area in over a decade. Consistently falling unemployment rate and elevated consumer confidence continued to point to the underlying strength of the economy. The outlook for the euro area remains upbeat with still accommodative monetary policy and rising global demand, although the strong euro could act as a drag on net exports and growth.

Economic activity also continued to expand in major Emerging Market Economies (EMEs). China's economy grew by 6.9% in 2017, above both the official target of 6.5% and 6.7% recorded in 2016. Notwithstanding financial risks, a government-led economic restructuring is underway, transitioning China from an export-driven path to a more balanced one that is driven by domestic demand. In Brazil, economic activity is gaining momentum, driven by higher commodity prices and improved fiscal outlook. The Russian economy has continued to recover, benefiting from easing of monetary policy, higher oil prices and strong household consumption.

Outlook

With financial conditions still supportive, global growth is expected to rise to 3.9% in 2018 and 2019. Advanced economies (AEs) will grow faster this year and next; euro area economies are set to narrow excess capacity with support from accommodative monetary policy and expansionary fiscal policy will drive the US economy above full employment. Aggregate growth in emerging markets and developing economies is projected to firm further, with continued strong growth in emerging Asia and Europe and a modest upswing in commodity exporters after three years of weak performance. The recent volatility in financial markets stemming mainly from the uncertainty over the pace of normalisation of monetary policy in AEs could pose a challenge to the EMEs, while fear of rising trade protectionism have clouded the global trade outlook.

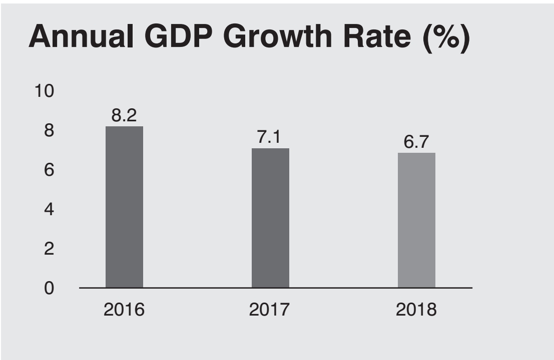
2.2 Indian Economy

According to Central Statistics Office (CSO), the Indian economy posted a growth rate of 7.7% during Q4 – January – March 2018, enabling the country to retain its position as the fastest growing major economy. This was on account of robust performance by manufacturing and service sectors as well as good farm output. India has positioned itself as the most dynamic emerging economy among the largest countries and is expected to remain the fastest growing on the back of robust private consumption and noteworthy domestic reforms gradually being implemented by the Government.

The revised fiscal deficit was put at 3.5% of GDP in 2016-17, higher than 3.2% budgeted last year. The fiscal deficit has been projected at 3.3% of GDP for the year 2018-19, higher than the fiscal consolidation target of 3%.



Source: Central Statistics Office (CSO)

Outlook

Going forward, economic activity is expected to gather pace in F.Y. 2018-19, benefitting from a conducive domestic and global environment. Following factors will contribute towards it:

AGGREGATE GROWTH IN EMERGING MARKET AND DEVELOPING ECONOMIES IS PROJECTED TO FIRM FURTHER, WITH CONTINUED STRONG GROWTH IN EMERGING ASIA AND EUROPE AND A MODEST UPSWING IN COMMODITY EXPORTERS AFTER THREE YEARS OF WEAK PERFORMANCE.

- the teething troubles relating to implementation of the GST are receding.
- credit off-take has improved in the recent period and is becoming increasingly broad-based, which portends well for the manufacturing sector and new investment activity.
- large resource mobilisation from the primary market could strengthen investment activity further in the period ahead.
- the process of recapitalisation of public sector banks and resolution of distressed assets under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) may improve the business and investment environment.
- global trade growth has accelerated, which should encourage exports and reduce the drag from net exports.
- the thrust on rural and infrastructure sectors in the Union Budget could rejuvenate rural demand and also crowd in private investment.

DETERMINED GOVERNMENT EFFORTS TO IMPROVE DIGITISED FINANCIAL SERVICES EXPERIENCE HAVE ENABLED ENHANCED SECTOR PENETRATION, ESPECIALLY IN RURAL INDIA.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Good and Services Tax (GST) was made effective in the country w.e.f. 1st July, 2017. This required a change in the compliance mechanism as well as the determination of taxability for different states in which the Company operates. Major change for determination of tax was of determining Source and Consumption State for each transaction. To handle the criticalities of GST law, there were several system changes required in the various softwares being used by the Company. There were challenges in respect of filing of various returns on monthly basis for each state where the registration was obtained by the Company. The due dates for filing returns were challenging, however they were always filed within the due dates. We have also purchased an external software for assisting in generation of invoices as required by the GST law and for generation of files for filing various returns.

3. FINANCIAL SERVICES INDUSTRY

India's diversified financial sector is undergoing rapid expansion. The sector comprises of commercial banks, non-banking financial companies, co-operatives, pension funds, insurance companies, mutual funds and other financial entities. A fast-growing economy, rising income levels, higher financial savings, greater propensity to spend and improving life expectancy rates are some of the encouraging factors that are likely to boost growth in the sector in the coming years. Over the past few years, the Reserve Bank of India (the RBI) has been steadily implementing technology to deepen and broaden financial services in India. Innovative steps like introduction of small finance banks and specialised payment banks have been implemented.

- The Financial Services Sector contributes significantly to the Indian growth story and is poised for rapid growth in future.
- Extensive use of technology is stirring the financial services sector with the rise of digital payment options (UPI, wallets, payment banks) and blockchain technology.
- Determined government efforts to improve digitised financial services experience have enabled enhanced sector penetration, especially in rural India.

- Financial inclusion agenda of the government is being realised through Aadhaar-based biometric authentication methods for electronic payments, P2P lending and crowd funding.
- Implementation of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) is changing the landscape for restructuring of stressed assets.
- The re-capitalisation of PSU banks should improve the credit growth in the lending activity.

Emerging trends in the financial services industry

Simplifying digitalisation - Business is becoming more about the user experience. Automated user interfaces can go a long way in aiding this transformation, and implementing digitalisation is key to making it happen. The upcoming year will be about the simplification of processes and digitalisation.

Banking regulations - 2018 will be a turning point in financial regulation. Alongside General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID II), the requirements for central clearing and the second Payments Services Directive (PSD2) will bring out significant changes to the banking environment, with the visionaries emerging as the winners.

FinTech collaboration - One of the largest technology revolutions in banking in recent years has been the use of advanced data analytics techniques to nail rogue trading activities within banks. In 2018, banks will have to decide whether to service clients in-house or through a third party, to stay competitive.

Rise of robots - Robotic Process Automation (RPA), which uses software robots or 'bots' to mimic human activity, has the latent to expose more value by endorsing employees to focus on value-added work. This in turn will eventually change the way the financial services sector operates.

Reality of blockchain - The use of the distributed ledger technology will no longer just be theoretical. The prospects for financial services that invest in such technology are boundless, from reducing operational costs to improving efficiency.

Digital Transformation

Taking into consideration the above, in December 2016, Mahindra Finance embarked on a digital transformation journey across the Group's Financial Services Sector. The journey encompassed four areas of focus – digitising operations for scale, mobile first interfaces for servicing customers, unified data architecture and analytics for single customer view, leveraging new technologies for new businesses. This was strengthened by new organisational design and talent.

After a year of implementation of the phase-I, the Company is pleased to note the increasing acceptance of this digital transformation both by its employees and customers. Employees are enabled with sales apps for customer acquisition and servicing that give them the ability to operate anytime, anywhere. The Company's customers have been given a new app which has had more than 50,000 downloads with thousands of customers using it to make digital payments. And many thousands are using the Company's website to make online EMI payments too. Your Company has embarked on an ambitious need based, loans program which will soon be digitally run from loan application to disbursement. Mahindra Finance has also launched Blockchain based invoice discounting platform between OEM's, their suppliers and the Company.

Your Company is continuously strengthening its IT and Data infrastructure to be future ready and ahead of industry in innovation.

- SEBI to consider mandating corporates to meet one-fourth of their financing needs from the bond market.
- Government to reform stamp duty regime on financial securities transactions in consultation with States and amend the Indian Stamp Act.

EXTENSIVE USE OF TECHNOLOGY IS STIRRING THE FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR WITH THE RISE OF DIGITAL PAYMENT OPTIONS (UPI, WALLETS, PAYMENT BANKS) AND BLOCKCHAIN TECHNOLOGY.

- A unified authority to be established for regulating all financial services in International Financial Services Centres (IFSC).
- Separate policy to be formulated for hybrid instruments for attracting foreign investments, especially start-ups and venture capital firms.
- Bank recapitalisation programme to pave way for public sector banks to lend additional credit of INR 5 lakh crores.
- A new proposal to allow strong Regional Rural Banks to raise capital from the market to enable them to increase their credit to rural economy is under consideration.
- Measures for effectively addressing NPAs and stressed assets of MSMEs to be announced shortly.
- Refinancing policy and eligibility criteria set by MUDRA to be reviewed for better refinancing of NBFCs.

3.1 NBFC Industry

Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFC) are an integral part of the Indian Financial system, augmenting competition and diversification in the financial sector and complementing the banking system. The Indian NBFC sector has been providing credit to customers in the underserved and unbanked areas. Their channelling the savings and investments of customers and the subsequent capital formation is necessary for India's economic growth and development. Their ability to innovate products in conformity with the needs of their clients is well established.

Classification of NBFCs based on activities undertaken

Asset Finance Company (NBFC-AFC)	Financing of physical assets supporting productive/economic activity, including automobiles, tractors and generators.
Loan Company	Providing finance by extending loans or otherwise for any activity other than its own but does not include an AFC.
Investment Company	Acquiring securities for the purposes of selling.
Infrastructure Finance Company (NBFC-IFC)	Providing infrastructure loans.
Systemically Important Core Investment Company (CIC-ND-SI)	Acquiring shares and securities for investment in mainly equity shares.
Infrastructure Debt Fund (NBFC-IDF)	For facilitating flow of long-term debt into infrastructure projects.
Micro Finance Institution (NBFC-MFI)	Extending credit to economically disadvantaged groups as well support Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs).
Factor (NBFC-Factor)	Undertaking the business of acquiring receivables of an assignor or extending loans against the security interest of the receivables at a discount.
NBFC–Non-Operative Financial Holding Company (NOFHC)	For permitting promoter groups to set up a new bank.
Mortgage Guarantee Company (MGC)	Undertaking mortgage activities.
Account Aggregator (NBFC-AA)	Collecting and providing the information of customers' financial assets in a consolidated, organised and retrievable manner to the customer or others as specified by the customer.
Non-Banking Financial Company - Peer to Peer Lending Platform (NBFC-P2P)	Providing an online platform to bring lenders and borrowers together to help mobilise unsecured finance.

NBFCs operate at higher yields mainly because they cater to underserved markets. Their operating cost as well as bad debt expenditure is lower compared to banks due to:

- Better risk appreciation and management.
- Lower cost due to lean and focused business models.
- Better service through faster response and personalised approach.

According to CRISIL, NBFCs in India are expected to see 18% Compounded Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) for the next two-and-a-half years and raise their share in total credit to 19% by 2020. The home loans segment, the largest business segment for NBFCs, is expected to grow at a steady CAGR of 18% over the next three years as they focus on self-employed customers and lower ticket size.

The NBFCs' market share in the wholesale finance business is expected to increase from 12% in 2014 to 19% in 2020. Home loans, the largest business segment for non-banks, is expected to grow at a steady CAGR of about 18% over the next three fiscals, owing to sharper focus of HFCs on self-employed customer segment and lower ticket sizes. With regulatory guidelines and government policy driving developers to focus on the affordable housing market, there lies huge opportunity for growth by investing and financing these properties. Since the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana provides home buyers with a Credit Linked Subsidy Scheme, the effective rate of interest payment falls below rental yields. This, in turn, improves the conditions for buying affordable housing property, empowering Housing Finance Companies (HFCs) and NBFCs to invest more in this segment.

Growth Drivers

Improving macro-economic fundamentals

The cross-sectional distribution pattern of the industry is determined by the performance of the economy. The macro-economic vulnerabilities at the domestic front have declined because of improvement in growth outlook, fall in inflation and recovery in industrial production data. With rising investor sentiment and business confidence, industry growth is likely to be fuelled by lending in the future.

Increase in infrastructure projects

Infrastructure development has been identified as a key driver of long-term economic growth in India over the years. Government spending on infrastructure has been constantly increasing to bolster the Country's economy. In Budget 2018-19, budgetary and extra-budgetary expenditure on infrastructure increased to Rs. 5.97 lakh crores for 2018-19 from Rs. 4.94 lakh crores in 2017-18. Urbanisation, rising incomes and younger and smaller family units all point towards a rise in real estate activity.

Strong regulatory initiatives

The RBI has been tightening regulations to manage the risk in the sector and has been proposing higher capital and provisioning requirements. It has also been stressing on higher disclosures to safeguard public money and prevent systemic shocks. In addition, the RBI has taken rapid preventive actions in addressing specific issues to manage systemic risk. It has issued an ombudsman scheme for NBFCs, offering a grievance redressal mechanism for their customers.

GOVERNMENT POLICIES, COMBINED WITH THE FINANCIAL SERVICES INDUSTRY'S EFFORTS TO LOOK FOR GROWTH, WILL AUGMENT FINANCIAL INCLUSION.

Outlook

NBFCs continue to be an integral part of the country's financial service ecosystem. The expected reforms and drive towards various core sectors will provide more opportunities to the NBFCs to create significant financial inclusion and employment opportunities across the country. In line with the government's vision to achieve inclusive growth, the next key step is to include the unbanked population in the formal financial system. This will empower them and result in a significant increase in the average per capita income. Government policies, combined with the financial services industry's efforts to look for growth, will augment financial inclusion.

4. AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY

The Indian auto industry is one of the largest in the world with an annual production of 25.32 million vehicles in 2016-17. Though in 2017-18 the industry witnessed many headwinds – ban on sale of BS-III vehicles from 1st April, 2017, GST implementation as on 1st July, 2017, and rate revisions under GST in September 2017, it has managed to register growth of 11.5% vis-à-vis 6.8% during the same period last year. This year, rural income was supported by a near-normal monsoon, which led to good crop and higher MSPs (Minimum Support Prices) announced by the government. This has resulted in higher disposable incomes in the hands of rural population. Also, demand for commercial vehicles recovered on the back of infrastructure development, with new road and highway projects being undertaken and various projects coming up in smart cities.

During April-March 2018, the automobile industry produced over 29 million vehicles including passenger vehicles, commercial vehicles, three-wheelers, two-wheelers and quadricycles, as compared to the 25.3 million vehicles produced during April-March 2017, thus registering production growth of 14.78%.

Domestic volume growth trends across segments – 2017-18

Segment-wise Sales	2017-18	2016-17	Change (%)
Passenger Vehicles	3,287,965	3,047,582	7.9%
Commercial Vehicles	856,453	714,082	19.9%
Two Wheelers	20,192,672	17,589,738	14.8%

Tractors	711,478	582,844	22.1%

Passenger Vehicles

The passenger vehicle market saw a growth of 7.89% with sale of 3.28 million vehicles in April-March 2018 majorly led by utility vehicle sales which itself saw a growth of 20.97%. Within the passenger vehicles segment, sale of passenger cars and vans grew by 3.33% and 5.78% respectively, over the last fiscal year.

Commercial Vehicles

Total sales grew by 19.94% during April-March 2018 supported by pent-up demand post GST implementation, stringent execution of overloading norms in select states as well as healthy demand for Heavy Commercial Vehicles (HCVs). Medium & Heavy Commercial Vehicles (M&HCVs) segment saw growth of 12.48%, while Light Commercial Vehicles (LCVs) segment grew by 25.42%, during the same period. On the other hand, the three-wheelers segment saw growth of 24.19% in April- March 2018 over the last year.

Budget 2018-19: Automobile Industry - key highlights

- Increase in customs duty for CKD (Completely Knocked Down) import of motor vehicles, motor cars, motorcycles and key auto ancillary and tyre products.
- Higher allocation towards Infrastructure (From Rs. 4.94 lakh crores to Rs. 5.97 lakh crores).
- Substantial allocation towards creation of livelihood and rural infrastructure (Rs. 14.34 lakh crores), which includes employment generation in rural areas, rural roads development, rural houses and rural electrification.

Growth Drivers

Emerging middle-class

By 2021, India's emerging, and middle-class segments will comprise of nearly 900 million people and the Auto industry in India is expected to benefit greatly from this growth. A middle-class consumption lead growth is also likely to influence the overall economy positively, driving up the demand for 3-Wheelers and commercial vehicles.

Infrastructure development

India has made significant progress in building new roads, highways, expressways and support infrastructure such as airports, ports, railways and power plants. The expansion and transformation of our core infrastructure is also a major driver of growth for the auto industry. While India's remarkable automotive growth has so far been driven by urban consumers, the government's vision for economic growth and development across all strata of the country will pave the way for launch of new products in this segment. The initiatives are expected to help the automotive industry develop new mobility solutions such as intelligent transportation systems, alternative fuel vehicles and smart and connected vehicles targeted at the 'smart cities' of the future.

Rural market

The automobile industry is yet to fully tap into the demand from rural areas. The Indian automobile industry seeks to double its sales on the back of this steady rural led growth over the next decade. It is also expected to grow off relatively untapped segments including demand from youth, women and aspiration for luxury cars.

Export advantage

India is also a prominent auto exporter and has strong export growth expectations for the near future. In April-February 2018, overall automobile exports increased by 15.81%.

Outlook

Going forward, improved consumer sentiment after the Seventh Pay Commission by the Centre as well as salary revisions by States are expected to boost demand. The government has also recently (in October 2017) approved one of the biggest highway construction projects in India – 'Bharatmala project', worth Rs. 7 lakh crores to build approximately 83,000 kms of roads by 2022. This is expected to give a fillip to the commercial vehicles segment.

5. TRACTOR INDUSTRY

India has the largest tractor market in the world and hence one of the most important markets for all the leading Indian and global companies having tractor in its farm equipment portfolio, though, when one relates the dominant density of tractors in India to some of the leading economies, one would find it is way below the world average. Hence, there is huge potential for growth in tractor industry and given that agriculture has extensive weight in the overall economy, economic growth will not be possible without growth in agriculture.

The sector saw an impressive 22% growth and many OEMs (Original Equipment Manufacturers) also reported their best ever sales figure. The primary reasons for this growth are two consecutive years of normal monsoon, better crop production, easy availability of credit to farmers and increasing use of tractors in non-agricultural sectors.

Timely execution of Rs. 638 billion (Rs. 63,800 crores) support to the agricultural and allied sectors announced in the Union Budget 2018-19 will lead to a steady increase in demand for tractors and other farm equipments in the medium-term. Demand for tractors from non-agricultural sectors like construction and infrastructure, especially of higher tonnage, is also likely to grow.

Budget 2018-19: Tractor Industry key highlights

- Total allocation for rural, agricultural and allied sectors enhanced by 20.5% to Rs. 14.34 lakh crores.
- Institutional farm credit target increased by 10% to Rs. 11 lakh crores.
- Increase in minimum support prices for kharif and corpus allocated to strengthen agricultural markets.

- Allocation under MNREGA increased by 14.6% to Rs. 55,000 crores; allocation of Rs. 5,750 crores to the National Rural Livelihood Mission.
- Increase in allocation for Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana by 44% to Rs. 13,000 crores.
- Rural infrastructure development; allocation of Rs. 19,000 crores for Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana and Rs. 33,000 crores to Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana.
- Allocations of i) Rs. 1,400 crores for establishment of specialised agro-processing institutions ii) Rs. 500 crores under 'Operation Green' to promote farmer produce organisations, agri-logistics and processing facilities.
- Export of agri-commodities to be liberalised.

Outlook

Going forward, the tractor industry's 5-year CAGR from 2017-18 to 2021-22 is expected to be 8-10%. The Government's renewed push towards improving the rural economy through measures aimed at doubling farm income by 2022, increasing spend towards irrigation and improving crop productivity by distributing soil health cards, is expected to drive growth in the long-term. The Government has also announced measures such as the e-NAM (National Agriculture Market), expanding crop insurance, and gradual spread of Custom Hiring Centres. With increasing mechanisation on farm fields, this augurs well for structural tractor demand growth.

6. HOUSING FINANCE

Along with the growing population and urbanisation, there is also a rising demand for housing, and access to housing finance needs to keep pace with it. It is therefore important that all stakeholders, regulators, lenders, and other market participants actively undertake initiatives that continue to cater to these needs. While the housing finance market in India is served by both banks and Housing Finance Companies (HFCs), the graph below shows that the market share of HFCs has been growing and HFCs will continue to have a larger share going forward.

Key policy announcements

Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY)

Launched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana, a credit linked subsidy scheme, is for the economically weaker sections, low-income groups and middle-income group-I and group-II. Through this scheme, the beneficiary is eligible to avail interest subsidy on the purchase or construction of a house. The scheme is also available for the enhancement of a dwelling unit. Owing to PMAY subsidy scheme and tax benefits, the middle-income affordable housing space is seeing good traction. The operational aspects of the scheme have also smoothened out. People can now receive subsidies within 30 days of submission of claims.

GST and RERA

GST and Real Estate Regulation and Development Act (RERA) brought structural changes in the housing sector in 2017-18, which was positive as the sector becomes formalised. Implementation of GST made housing affordable and RERA offers to bring fair practices that would protect the interests of investors. Besides, RERA looks forward to addressing issues like pricing, the quality of construction, and other changes that will protect homebuyers from unethical players.

Budget 2018-19: Housing Finance key highlights

- Allocation for Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) at Rs. 27,414 crores for 2018-19 as compared to Rs. 28,951 crores last year.
- Under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Gramin), 51 lakh houses to be constructed in 2018-19 in urban areas; assistance has been sanctioned for construction of 37 lakh houses.
- Affordable Housing Fund (AHF) to be set up in the National Housing Bank, funded from priority-sector lending shortfall and fully serviced bonds authorised by the Government.

Growth Drivers

Economic growth

The Indian economy is expected to be the fastest growing economy for the next few decades. The growth will be determined by infrastructure investment and the rising manufacturing sector. The performance of the Indian economy is seen to be amongst the most stable, facilitated by the moderation in inflation, government's fiscal consolidation measures and expenditure incurred towards building infrastructure and other sectors.

Housing shortage

According to business management consultant RNCOS, the shortage of urban housing across the country is expected to increase to an estimated 3.41 crores units by 2022. This is mainly driven by increasing demand supply gap and rising income level of working population in Tier I and Tier II cities. Furthermore, according to the report of Working Group on Rural Housing for Twelfth Five Year Plan, Ministry of Rural Development (MoRD), 2011 there was expected to be a shortage of around 3.93 crores units between 2012-17 in rural areas.

Outlook

With the growth in demand, the housing finance industry offers tremendous scope for growth. We are among very few housing finance companies with a dominant focus on rural housing. We have also been actively exploring opportunities in the affordable housing space to grow and diversify our customer base and tap onto the emerging opportunities in the sector. In both the rural and affordable housing verticals, we have customised loan products and processes keeping in mind the needs of our customers. We are focused on leveraging digital technologies, data analytics and partnerships to further enhance the customer experience and improve business performance.

7. Infrastructure and Real Estate

Real estate is one of the most dynamic sectors. It is the second largest employer in India after agriculture. The year 2017 has set an unexpected benchmark for the real estate sector of India. In the first quarter of 2017, due to the demonetisation in 2016, the real estate sector also was affected along with other sector, with land sales reaching a point of sluggishness. By the time the markets were ready to recover, GST and RERA were implemented which added pressure on buyers and sellers alike. In anticipation of the final RERA notifications, buyers held back purchases.

Regulatory reforms

The regulatory reforms implemented through frameworks defined under the RERA and GST, to an extent, have led the sector in a certain direction. It is mandatory for all real estate projects to follow the provisions of RERA, which attempts to make sure that projects are delivered on-time and the money paid by buyers for certain projects is not squandered on other purposes. It will be impossible for fly-by-night operators to be in the market and only the most committed players will be able to navigate the roadmap. This will benefit both buyers and sellers in the long term.

GST will have sizable impact on real estate sector. It is expected to bring in transparency and simplicity. While the prices of residential real estate may not come down in the short term, GST will certainly help in improving the perception of the sector on the back of a simplified tax structure and accountability being fixed at every stage.

The affordable housing initiative is aimed at homes with a value of approximately Rs. 20 lakhs. Homes in this range are typically located on the outskirts of metros and Tier-1 cities. They are aimed at first-time homebuyers in the middle-to-lower-income category. The government has also rolled out various incentives to boost affordable housing. To begin with, the Government designated this vital sector as a favoured segment under its 'Housing for All by 2022' initiative.

Budget 2018-19: Infrastructure - key highlights

- Capital outlay towards the infrastructure sector up to Rs. 5.97 lakh crores in 2018-19 (up 20.8% over 2018), with major increase for segments like Railways, Telecommunication and Affordable Housing.
- Railway and Road sectors continue to be the focus areas, contributing to over 45% of the total infrastructure capital outlay. Capital outlay for Railways to increase by 22.1% while that of Roads by 10.2%.
- Outlay for Housing and Urban Development increased substantially by 57% with the increased amount coming from higher expenditure under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban).
- Allocation for the Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchai Yojana (PMKSY) increased by 27.5% to Rs. 9,429 crores. Under this, Rs. 6,000 crores is to be spent on 48 irrigation projects under the Accelerated Irrigation Benefits Programme (AIBP) and command area development.
- The Government, along with the regulators, to promote investments in bonds with credit rating of A and above from the current rating threshold of AA and above.

Outlook

Going ahead, the standpoint for the residential sector in 2018 is extremely ideal. Supply is picking up in the affordable housing segment, which is also where most of the demand is coming from. As the economy ascends, development from rural to urban will accelerate. Thus, there will be a significantly increased demand for houses. Surge is expected in this segment especially after the announcement of PMAY.

Outlook

The outlook for the market seems optimistic with portfolio managers remaining positive about their prospects in 2018. The Indian equity markets are expected to perform well backed by positive economic outlook, the Government's continuous focus on structural reforms through the announcement of the re-capitalisation plan for PSU banks and the thrust on infrastructure-related capital expenditure outlays. Any increase in volatility in equity markets due to rising global yields/ increase in trade wars may provide an opportunity to invest in Indian equity markets with long-term perspective.

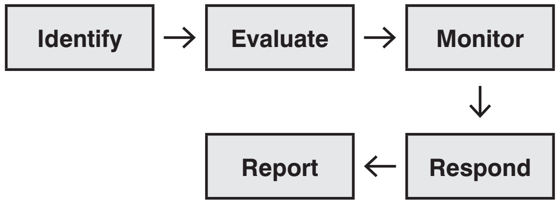
12. RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk management forms an integral part of our business. We continue to improve our policies and implement our policies rigorously for the efficient functioning of our business. As a lending institution, we are exposed to various risks that are related to our lending business and operating environment. Our objective in our risk management processes is to measure and monitor the various risks that we are subject to and to follow policies and procedures to address these risks. We do so through our risk management architecture, which includes a team, headed by our Executive Director & Chief Financial Officer that identifies, assesses and monitors all of our principal risks. The major types of risk we face in our businesses are credit risk, interest rate risk, operational risk, liquidity risk, cash management risk, asset risk, business risk, regulatory risk and human capital risk. Our Board has also adopted an Interest Rate Risk Management policy.

Risk Management Process

The risk management system includes the following key elements:

- A strategy that is driven by objectives and principles.
- Assignment of responsibilities.
- A framework and reporting cycle to identify, assess, manage, monitor and report the risks that the Company is or may be exposed to.
- A combination of 'top down' and 'bottom up' risk assessment and management process.
- A risk monitoring plan that outlines the review, challenge and oversight activities.
- Reporting procedures which ensure risk information is actively monitored, managed and appropriately communicated at all levels within the Company.
- Embedding a strong risk management culture across all levels of the Company.



The risk management framework is based on assessment of all risks through proper analysis and understanding of the underlying risks before undertaking any transactions and changing or implementing processes and systems. This risk management mechanism is supported by regular review, control, self-assessments and monitoring of key risk indicators. The key risks are: -

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss that may occur from the default by the Company's customers under its loan agreements. Customer defaults and inadequate collateral may lead to higher NPAs. Our credit approval policy includes a proposal evaluation and investigation procedure for credit appraisal. We manage our credit risk by evaluating the creditworthiness of our customers, carrying out cash flow analysis, setting credit limits, obtaining collateral and setting prudent LTV ratios. Actual credit exposures, credit limits and asset quality are regularly monitored at various levels.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company is subject to interest rate risk, principally because it lends to customers at fixed interest rates and for periods that may differ from its funding sources, which bear fixed and floating rates and are from banks and issuing debt. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors beyond our control, including the monetary policies of the RBI, deregulation of the financial sector in India, domestic and international economic and political conditions, inflation and other factors. We assess and manage the interest rate risk on our balance sheet by managing our assets and liabilities. From time to time the Company enters into interest rate swaps to help manage the risks it may incur from being exposed to liabilities at floating rates.

The Company maintains an Asset Liability Management Policy and Procedures ("ALM Policy"), which has been approved and adopted by the Asset Liability Committee of the Board. Assets and liabilities are categorised into various time buckets based on their maturities and re-pricing options. Efforts are made and action plans are drawn to ensure minimum mismatch in each of the time buckets in line with guidelines prescribed by the RBI.

Operational Risk

Operational risks are risks arising from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events. As one of the features of our lending operations, we offer a speedy loan approval process and therefore have adopted de-centralized loan approval systems. In order to control our operational risks, we have adopted clearly defined loan approval processes and procedures. We also attempt to mitigate operational risk by maintaining a comprehensive system of internal controls, establishing systems and procedures to monitor transactions, maintaining key back-up procedures and undertaking contingency planning. In addition, we have appointed local audit firms to conduct internal audits at a number of our offices to assess adequacy of and compliance with our internal controls, procedures and processes. Reports of the internal auditors as well as the action taken on the matters reported upon are discussed and reviewed at the Audit Committee meetings.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk arises due to the unavailability of adequate amount of funds at an appropriate price and tenure. The Company attempts to minimise this risk through a mix of strategies, including assignment of receivables and short-term funding. The Company also monitors liquidity risk through the Asset Liability Committee of the Board and its Operating Committee. Monitoring liquidity risk involves categorizing all assets and liabilities into different maturity profiles and evaluating them for any mismatches in any particular maturities, particularly in the short-term. Through the ALM Policy, we have capped maximum mismatches in various maturities in line with guidelines prescribed by the RBI.

The Company manages short-term mismatches between assets and liabilities by issuing commercial paper or obtaining funding from banks.

Cash Management Risk

Our offices collect and deposit a large amount of cash through a high volume of transactions. To address cash management risks, we have developed advanced cash management checks that we employ at every level to track and tally accounts. Moreover, we conduct regular audits to ensure the highest levels of compliance with our cash management systems.

Asset risk

Asset risks arise due to the decrease in the value of the collateral over time. The selling price of a re-possessed asset may be less than the total amount of loan and interest outstanding in such borrowing and we may be unable to realize the full amount lent to our customers due to such a decrease in the value of the collateral. We may also face certain practical and execution difficulties during the process of seizing collateral. We engage experienced repossession agents to repossess assets of defaulting customers. We ensure that these repossession agents follow legal procedures and take appropriate care in dealing with customers for seizing assets.

KEEPING IN WITH TRENDS AND PRACTICES IN THE MARKET, WE HAVE DEVELOPED TAILOR-MADE PRODUCTS TO DEEPEN MARKET PENETRATION.

Business Risk

The Company, being an NBFC, is exposed to various external risks which have direct bearing on the sustainability and profitability of the Company. Foremost amongst them are Industry Risk and Competition Risk. The volatile macro-economic conditions and change in sector attitude in various economic segments causes ups and down in the business, and results in loan asset impairment. We have a dedicated team to continuously judge the trends in the economy and various industrial sectors. With increasing competition in the financial markets, the business growth of the Company is now subject to its ability to face competition. Keeping in with trends and practices in the market, we have developed tailor-made products to deepen market penetration. Equipped with an enthusiastic sales force, range of products, continuous efforts to improve TAT, and customer friendly culture, the Company is efficiently withstanding competition.

Regulatory Risk

It is the risk of change in laws and regulations materially impacting the business. All the periodic guidelines issued by the RBI are fully adhered to and complied with by the Company. The Company strictly adheres to the Capital Adequacy, Fair Practices Code, the RBI Reporting, Asset Classification and Provisioning Norms, etc. with a zero-level tolerance on the non-compliance aspect.

If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in the auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify the opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of the auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause an entity to cease to continue as a going concern.

ANNEXURE B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT - 31 MARCH 2018

Report on the internal financial controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Limited (the "Company") as of 31 March 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's responsibility for internal financial controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, safeguarding of its assets, prevention and detection of frauds and errors, accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by the ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of internal financial controls over financial reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

26. Risk Management

The Company has a well-defined risk management framework in place. Your Company has established procedures to periodically review risk assessment and steps taken by it to mitigate these risks. The key business risks identified by the Company and its mitigation plans are as under:

i) Competitive Risks

Overall slowdown in economic activity could have an adverse effect on the financial condition and operational results of the Company.

As the overall levels of economic activity increase, the demand for insurance generally rises, and vice-versa. This impacts both, the brokerage as well as fees, generated by the business. Softening of the insurance market i.e. downward trends in the year-over-year insurance premium charged by insurers to offer protection against the same risk, could adversely affect the business as a large portion of the earnings are brokerage which is determined as a percentage of premium charged to the customers.

Significant competitive pressures in each of the business lines

The Company competes with a large number of insurance companies and other insurance intermediaries. Some of the competitors may have or may develop a lower cost structure, adopt or provide services that gain greater market acceptance. Large and well-established competitors may be able to respond to the need for technological changes and innovate faster, or price their services more aggressively. They may also compete hard for skilled professionals, finance acquisitions, fund internal growth and compete for customers. To respond to increased competition, we may have to lower the pricing of the services.

ii) Legal and Regulatory Risks

The Company is subject to professional indemnity claims made against it, as well as other legal proceedings, some of which, if determined against the Company, could have a material adverse effect on the financial condition or results of operations of a particular business line or the Company as a whole.

The Company traditionally has procured, and intends to continue to procure, insurance to cover professional indemnity claims and other insurance to provide protection against certain claims or losses that arise in such matters.

The business is subject to extensive regulation, which could reduce profitability, limit growth, or increase competition

The business is subject to extensive legal and regulatory oversight, including the IRDA (Insurance Brokers) Regulations, 2013 and the rules and regulations promulgated by the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) and a variety of other laws, rules and regulations. This legal and regulatory oversight could reduce profitability or limit growth by limiting or restricting the products or services the Company sells, by increasing the costs of legal and regulatory compliance, limiting the distribution methods by which it sells products and services, or capping the brokerage it can charge for the services, limiting the amount and form of compensation it can accept from the customers, insurers and third parties, or by subjecting the business to the possibility of legal and regulatory actions or proceedings.

Though the employees of the Company and authorized representatives exercise due care so not to violate these laws and regulations, there can be no assurances as regards the same.

iii) Operational and Commercial Risks

The Company's success depends on its ability to retain and attract experienced and qualified personnel, including the senior management and operating team and other professional personnel.

The business depends, to a large extent, upon the members of the senior management team and senior operating team, who possess extensive knowledge and a deep understanding of the business and strategy. The unexpected loss of services of any of the senior executives could have a disruptive effect, thereby impacting ability to manage the business effectively till such time as an able replacement is in place. The Company is constantly working to retain and attract these professionals through various people development initiatives.

Business performance and growth plans could be affected if the Company is not able to effectively apply technology in driving value for its customers through technology-based solutions or gain internal efficiencies through the effective application of technology and related tools. Conversely, investments in innovative technology-based solutions may fail to yield sufficient return to cover their investments.

The Company's success depends, in part, on its ability to apply and implement technology-based solutions that anticipate and keep pace with rapid and continuing changes in customer preferences. Response to these preferences needs to be timely and cost-effective. This also entails the business to incur considerable investment. In order to acquire and retain customers, the Company continuously strives to offer newer and cost-effective technologies to its customers, ahead of its competitors.

Other factors, outside of the Company's control.

The Company has no control over premium rates. The brokerage rates, too, are capped by the current regulations.

In addition to movements in premium rates, the ability to generate premium-based brokerage revenue may be challenged by:

- the level of compensation, as a percentage of premium, that insurers are willing to compensate brokers for placement activity, which in any case, is capped by the current regulations;
- competition from insurers seeking to sell their products directly to consumers without the involvement of an insurance broker;
- increasing willingness on the part of customers to "self-insure", which would increase competition and put pressure on pricing;
- fluctuation in the need for insurance as the economic downturn continues, as customers prioritize their need and willingness to procure insurance accordingly.

ANNEXURE II TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF MAHINDRA INSURANCE BROKERS LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Mahindra Insurance Brokers Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that operate effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

(1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;

(2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and

(3) Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

1 Company overview

Mahindra Insurance Brokers Limited is a Public Limited Company incorporated and domiciled in India. The Company's registered office is at Mahindra Towers, P. K. Kurne Chowk, Worli, Mumbai - 400 018. The Company is primarily involved in the business of rendering insurance broking services.

The immediate parent Company is Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Limited and ultimate parent Company is Mahindra & Mahindra Limited, a company incorporated in Mumbai, India.

2 Basis of preparation

a. Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the 'Act') and other relevant provisions of the Act.

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the schedule III of the Act. Based on nature of services and the time between the acquisition of the assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as up to twelve months for the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabiities.

The financial statements of the Company for the year ended March 31, 2018 were authorised for issue by the Company's Board of Directors on April 18, 2018.

b. Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR) which is also the Company's functional currency. All amounts are rounded-off to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise indicated.

c. Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for the following items:

Items	Measurement basis
– Certain financial assets and liabilities which are generally derivative instruments	Fair value
– Liabilities for cash-settled share-based payment arrangements	Fair value
– Net defined benefit (asset)/liability	Fair value of plan assets less present value of defined benefit obligations

d. Measurement of fair values

A number of the Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

The Company has established policies and procedures with respect to the measurement of fair values. The Financial Controller and person entrusted has overall responsibility for overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values, including assessments that these valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS. Significant valuation issues are reported to audit committee.

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

– Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilties.

– Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

– Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

e. Use of judgements and estimates

In preparing these financial statements, management has made judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of the Company's accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to estimates are recognised prospectively.

Assumptions and estimation uncertainties

Following are areas that involved a higher degree of judgement or complexity in determining the carrying amount of some assets and liabilities. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements that have a significant risk of resulting in material adjustment in the year ending March 31, 2018 is included in relevant notes.

– Estimation of current tax expense and payable – Estimated useful life of property, plant and equipments

– Estimated useful life of intangible assets

– Estimation of defined benefit obligation

– Impairment of trade receivables

– Recognition of revenue under perecentage completion method

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

3 Significant accounting policies

a. Property, plant and equipment:

Recognition and measurement

All the items classified under property plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates, any directly attributable cost of bringing the item to its working condition for its intended use and estimated cost of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which it is located.

When significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are depreciated for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Gains and losses on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined by comparing the proceeds from disposal with the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment, and are recognized net within other expenses in profit or loss.

Subsequent costs

The cost of replacing a part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognized in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company, and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated on cost of items of property, plant and equipment less their estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives as specified in the Schedule II of the Act or estimated by the management using straight-line method and is generally recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

The estimated useful lives of items of property, plant and equipment for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Plant and equipment (including Computers)	2-6 years	2-6 years
Office equipments	5 years	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years	10 years
Vehicles	4 years	4 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate. The effect of change in estimate of useful life is accounted on prospective basis

b. Intangible Assets:

Intangible Assets are initially recognised at cost.

Amortisation

Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are carried at cost less accumalated amortisation and accumaltated impairement, if any. Amortisation of intangible assets with finite useful lives is calculated on cost of intangible assets less their estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives using straight-line method and is generally recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

The estimated useful lives for the current and comparative periods are as follows:

Computer software	3 years	3 years

Amortisation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate. The effect of change in estimate of useful life is accounted on prospective basis.

Intangible assets under development

The Company capitalizes intangible asset under development in accordance with the accounting policy. Initial capitalization of costs is based on management's judgement that technological and economic feasibility is confirmed.

Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

c. Impairment of assets other than financial assets:

Impairment of tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill

The Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets at the end of each reporting period, to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Where a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

d. Foreign currency:

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognised in profit or loss. They are deferred in equity if they relate to qualifying cash flow hedges.

Foreign exchange differences regarded as an adjustment to borrowing costs are presented in the statement of profit and loss, within finance costs. All other foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the statement of profit and loss on a net basis within other gains/(losses).

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. For example, translation differences on non- monetary assets and liabilities such as equity instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in profit or loss as part of the fair value gain or loss and translation differences on non-monetary assets such as equity investments classified as FVOCI are recognised in other comprehensive income.

e. Financial instruments:

Recognition and initial measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at

- Amortised cost;
- FVOCI - debt investment;
- FVOCI - equity investment;
- FVTPL

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A debt investment is measured at FVOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocable elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in other comprehensive income (designated as FVOCI - equity investment). This election is made on investment-by-investment basis.

All financial asset not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Income is recognised on an effective interest basis for debt instruments other than those financial assets classified as at FVTPL.

Interest income is recognised in profit or loss and is included in the "Other income" line item

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Group can make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to present the subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income pertaining to investments in equity instruments. This election is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading. These elected investments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs. Subsequently, they are measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the 'Reserve for equity instruments through other comprehensive income'. The cumulative gain or loss is not reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the investments

A financial asset is held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling it in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument or a financial guarantee.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL) Investments in equity instruments are classified as at FVTPL, unless the Group irrevocably elects on initial recognition to present subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income for investments in equity instruments which are not held for trading (see note above). Debt instruments that do not meet the amortised cost criteria or FVTOCI criteria (see above) are measured at FVTPL. In addition, debt instruments that meet the amortised cost criteria or the FVTOCI criteria but are designated as at FVTPL are measured at FVTPL. A financial asset that meets the amortised cost criteria or debt instruments that meet the FVTOCI criteria may be designated as at FVTPL upon initial recognition if such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would arise from measuring assets or liabilities or recognising the gains and losses on them on different bases. The Group has not designated any debt instrument as at FVTPL Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss incorporates any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the 'Other income' line item. Dividend on financial assets at FVTPL is recognised when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the entity, the dividend does not represent a recovery of part of cost of the investment and the amount of dividend can be measured reliably

Financial assets: Subsequent measurement and gains and losses

Financial assets at amortised cost are susequently measured at amortised cost using effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain and loss derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Debt investment at FVOCI are susequently measured at fair value. Interest income under effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss.

Equity investment at FVOCI are susequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are not reclassified to profit or loss.

Financial assets at FVTPL are susequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in profit or loss.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments:

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by Company are recognised at the proceeds received. Transaction costs of an equity transaction are recognised as a deduction from equity.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortised cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as at FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognised in profit or loss. The dividends on mandatorily redeemable preference shares are recognised in profit or loss as interest expense. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognised in profit or loss.

Compound financial instruments

The component parts of compound instruments (convertible notes) issued by the Company are classified separately as financial liabilities and equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument. A conversion option that will be settled by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the Company's own equity instruments is an equity instrument.

At the date of issue, the fair value of the liability component is estimated using the prevailing market interest rate for similar non-convertible instruments. This amount is recorded as a liability on an amortised cost basis using the effective interest method until extinguished upon conversion or at the instrument's maturity date. Interest related to the financial liability is recognised in profit or loss (unless it qualifies for inclusion in the cost of an asset).

Conversion option classified as equity is determined by deducting the amount of the liability component from the fair value of the compound instrument as a whole. This is recognised and included in equity, net of income tax effects, and is not subsequently remeasured. In addition, the conversion option classified as equity will remain in equity until the conversion option is exercised, in which case, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to [share premium/other equity]. Where the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date of the convertible instrument, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to [retained profits/other equity]. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the convertible notes are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of the gross proceeds. Transaction costs relating to the equity component are recognised directly in equity. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability component and are amortised over the lives of the convertible notes using the effective interest method.

Derecognition

Financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

If the Company enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its balance sheet, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets, the transferred assets are not derecognised.

Financial liabilities

The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire.

The Company also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Company currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Write-off

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Company determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write- off. However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities under the Company's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. Any recoveries made are recognised in profit or loss.

Impairment of financial instruments

The Company recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses (ECL) on:

- Financial assets measured at amortised cost;
- Financial assets measured at FVOCI - debt investments;

The Company always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables. The expected credit losses on these financial assets are estimated using a provision matrix based on the Company's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecast direction of conditions at the reporting date, including time value of money where appropriate.

For all other financial instruments, the Company recognises lifetime ECL when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. If, on the other hand, the credit risk on the financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company measures the loss allowance for that financial instrument at an amount equal to 12 month ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. 12 month ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

When determining whether credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating expected credit losses, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, including on historical experience and forward-looking information.

Loss allowances for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from the gross carrying amount of the assets.For debt securities at FVOCI, the loss allowance is recognised in OCI and carrying amount of the financial asset is not reduced in the balance sheet.

f. Revenue Recognition:

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Amount disclosed as revenue are exclusive of service tax/ GST and net of revenue on policy cancellations and endorsements.

Rendering of services

Brokerage Income, Handling Charges & Broker Retainer Fees is accounted for net of service tax/GST amount on rendition of services. Brokerage income is recognized on receiving details of the policy issued by the insurance company or receipt of brokerage whichever is earlier.

The Company recognises revenue from rendering of consultancy services in proportion to the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date. The stage of completion is assessed based on surveys of work performed.

Dividend and interest income

Dividends are recognised in profit or loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company, and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

Interest income is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest income is recognised using effective interest method when it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the interest will flow to the Company, and the amount of the interest can be measured reliably. The effective interest rate is the rate that discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses.

g. Employee benefits:

Superannuation Fund, ESIC and Labour Welfare Fund

The Company's contribution paid/payable during the year to Superannuation Fund, ESIC and Labour Welfare Fund are recognised in profit or loss.

Provident Fund

Contributions to Provident Fund are charged to profit or loss as incurred. The Company is liable for the contribution and any shortfall in interest between the amount of interest realised by the investments and the interest payable to the members at the rate declared by the Government of India.

Gratuity

The liability or asset recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit pension and gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuary using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet.

Defined contribution plans

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are expensed as the related service is provided. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in future payments is available.

Compensated Absences

The Company has a policy on compensated absences which are both accumulating and non-accumulating in nature. The expected cost of accumulating compensated absences is determined by acturial valuation performed by an independent actuary at each balance sheet date using projected unit credit method on the additional amount expected to be paid or availed as a result of the unused entitllement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date. Expense on non accumulating compensated absences is recognised in the period in which the absences occur.

h. Taxation:

Income tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax. It is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination or to an item recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

Current tax

Current tax comprises expected tax payable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The Company's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and it is entended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

i. Provisions:

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as finance cost.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognised as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

j. Leasing:

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Assets held under finance leases are initially recognized as assets of the Company at their fair value at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the balance sheet as a finance lease obligation.

Lease payments are apportioned between finance expenses and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance expenses are recognised immediately in profit or loss, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalised in accordance with the Company's general policy on borrowing costs. Contingent rentals are recognized as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred.

Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

k. Segment Reporting

Operating Segments are reported consistently with the internal reporting provided to the Managing Director. The highest decision making executive is responsible for allocating resources to and assessing the performance of the operating segments. The highest decision making body is Managing Director.

l. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit for the period after deducting preference dividends and any attributable tax thereto for the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, sub-division of shares etc. that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without corresponding change in resources. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average numbers of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Financial Risk Management Framework

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. In order to manage the aforementioned risks, the Company operates a risk management policy and a program that performs close monitoring of and responding to each risk factors.

CREDIT RISK

(i) Credit risk management

Credit risk arises when a counterparty defaults on its contractual obligations to pay resulting in financial loss to the Company.

Trade receivables consist of institutional customers, largely insurance companies. The Company deals only with those insurance companies who have obtained an acceptable level of credit rating. The Company does not have significant credit risk exposure to any single external counterparty. Out of total outstanding 41% of the debtors are pertaining to group companies.

The credit risk on liquid funds invested in Fixed Deposits with companies and Intercorporate Deposits is limited because the counterparties are group companies.

The Company applies the simplified approach to providing for expected credit losses prescribed by Ind AS 109, which permits the use of the expected loss provision for all trade receivables. The company has computed expected credit losses based on a provision matrix which uses historical credit loss experience of the Company and individual receivable specific provision where applicable. Forward-looking information (including macroeconomic information) has been incorporated into the determination of expected credit losses.

There is no change in estimation techniques or significant assumptions during the reporting period.

The loss allowance provision is determined as follows:

As at 31 March 2018	Not due	Less than 6 months past due	More than 6 months past due	Total

LIQUIDITY RISK

(i) Liquidity risk management

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the board of directors, which has established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Company's short-, medium- and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

(ii) Maturities of financial liabilities

The following tables detail the Company's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities with agreed repayment periods. MARKET RISK

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters, while optimising the return. The Company invests in fixed rate instruments taking into account the current liquidity requirements. All such transactions are carried out within the guidelines set by the Board of Directors.

There has been no significant changes to the company's exposure to market risk or the methods in which they are managed or measured.

Currency Risk

The Company undertakes transactions denominated in foreign currencies; consequently, exposures to exchange rate fluctuations arise. The Company's / Company's exposure to currency risk relates primarily to the Company's operating activities in reinsurance broking when transactions are denominated in a different currency from the Company's functional currency.

The Company mitigates its foreign currency risk by entering into reinsurance contracts wherein the risk is to the account of the cedant insurers or the reinsurers.

The carrying amounts of the Company's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows.

Particulars	Currency	31-Mar-18	31-Mar-17
Trade Receivables	USD	–	–
	EUR	–	–
	GBP	–	–
Trade Payables	USD	–	–
	EUR	–	–
	GBP	–	–

Foreign Currency Sensitivity

In management's opinion, any sensitivity analysis is not representative of the inherent foreign exchange risk because the exposure is to the account of the cedant insurer or reinsurer.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates.

The Company manages its interest rate risk by having a balanced portfolio of long-term as well as short-term fixed deposits with companies as well as intercorporate deposits.

Interest rate sensitivity

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on exposure to interest rate for non-derivative instruments at the end of reporting period.

The following table demonstrates the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in interest rates on that portion of loans given and investments in fixed deposits effected. With all other variables held constant, the Company's profit before tax is affected through the impact on fixed rate investments and interest bearing loans as follows:

₹ in Lakhs

	Currency	Increase/ decrease in basis points	Effect on profit before tax
31-Mar-18	INR	+50	128.98
	INR	-50	(128.98)
31-Mar-17	INR	+50	73.36
	INR	-50	(73.36)

The assumed movement in basis points for the interest rate sensitivity analysis is based on the currently observable market environment, showing a significantly higher volatility than in prior years.

The fair values of the financial assets and financial liabilities included in the level 2 categories above have been determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on a discounted cash flow analysis, with the most significant inputs being the discount rate that reflects the credit risk of counterparties. In the opinion of the management, the difference between the carrying value of the above stated financial assets and liabilities is not materially different from their fair value. Accordingly, the fair value and carrying amount are the same.

Note No. 25 - Employee benefits

(a) Defined Contribution Plan

The Company's contribution to Provident Fund and Superannuation Fund aggregating Rs. 287.87 lakhs (F-2017 : Rs.234.48 lakhs) has been recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss under the head Employee Benefits Expense.

(b) Defined Benefit Plans:

Gratuity

The Company operates a gratuity plan covering qualifying employees. The benefit payable is the greater of the amount calculated as per the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 or the Company scheme applicable to the employee. The benefit vests upon completion of five years of continuous service and once vested it is payable to employees on retirement or on termination of employment. In case of death while in service, the gratuity is payable irrespective of vesting. The Company makes annual contribution to the group gratuity scheme administered by the Life Insurance Corporation of India through its Gratuity Trust Fund.

Through its defined benefit plans the Company is exposed to a number of risks, the most significant of which are detailed below:

Asset volatility

The plan liabilities are calculated using a discount rate set with references to government bond yields; if plan assets under perform compared to the government bonds discount rate, this will create or increase a deficit. The defined benefit plans hold a significant proportion of equity type assets, which are expected to outperform government bonds in the long-term while providing volatility and risk in the short-term.

As the plans mature, the Company intends to reduce the level of investment risk by investing more in assets that better match the liabilities.

However, the Company believes that due to the long-term nature of the plan liabilities and the strength of the supporting group, a level of continuing equity type investments is an appropriate element of the Company's long term strategy to manage the plans efficiently.

Changes in bond yields

A decrease in government bond yields will increase plan liabilities, although this is expected to be partially offset by an increase in the value of the plans' bond holdings and interest rate hedging instruments.

Inflation risk

Some of the Company's pension obligations are linked to inflation, and higher inflation will lead to higher liabilities (although, in most cases, caps on the level of inflationary increases are in place to protect the plan against extreme inflation). The plans hold a significant proportion of assets in index linked gilts, together with other inflation hedging instruments and also assets which are more loosely correlated with inflation. However an increase in inflation will also increase the deficit to some degree.

Life expectancy

The majority of the plan's obligations are to provide benefits for the life of the member, so increases in life expectancy will result in an increase in the plan's liabilities. This is particularly significant in the Company's defined benefit plans, where inflationary increases result in higher sensitivity to changes in life expectancy.

The sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to changes in the weighted principal assumptions is:

₹ in Lakhs

Principal assumption		Changes in assumption	Impact on defined benefit obligation
			Increase in assumption	Decrease in assumption
Discount rate	2018	1%	(7.21)	7.33
	2017	1%	(3.41)	3.47

Life expectancy	2018	+/- 1 year	Negligible	Negligible
	2017	+/- 1 year	Negligible	Negligible

The above sensitivity analyses are based on a change in an assumption while holding all other assumptions constant. In practice this is unlikely to occur, and changes in some of the assumptions may be correlated. When calculating the sensitivity of the defined benefit obligation to significant actuarial assumptions the same method (present value of the defined benefit obligation calculated with the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period) has been applied as when calculating the defined benefit liability recognised in the Balance sheet.

The methods and types of assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analyses did not change compared to previous period.

The Company expects to contribute Rs. 150 lakhs to the gratuity trusts during the next financial year of 2019.

The Company's policy is driven by considerations of maximizing returns while ensuring credit quality of the debt instruments. The asset allocation for plan assets is determined based on investment criteria prescribed under the Indian Income Tax Act, 1961, and is also subject to other exposure limitations. The Company evaluates the risks, transaction costs and liquidity for potential investments. To measure plan asset performance, the Company compares actual returns for each asset category with published benchmarks.

The expected rate of return on plan assets is based on the average long term rate of return expected on investments of the fund during the estimated term of obligation.

The estimate of future salary increases, considered in actuarial valuation, takes account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors, such as supply and demand in the employment market.

The current service cost and the net interest expense for the year are included in the employee benefits expense in profit or loss of the expense for the year.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

a) Industry Structure and developments

A report published by KPMG ("Decoding Housing for All by 2022"), pegs the 2012 shortage of Housing units in India at 5.9 crore units, and projects it to increase to 11 crore units by 2022. Of this, the shortage in rural areas is 4 crore units (projected to increase to 6.4 crore units by 2022) while the shortage in urban areas is placed at 1.9 crore units (projected to increase to 4.6 crore units by 2022).

Moreover, 95 percent of the housing shortage in urban areas is within the Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) / Lower Income Group (LIG) segments defined as households at the Bottom of the Economic Pyramid with annual household incomes of less than Rs. 3 lakhs (EWS) or Rs. 6 lakhs (LIG).

Recognizing this issue, the Government of India has set up an ambitious goal of "Housing For All by 2022", supported by schemes like Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban) [PMAY-U] and the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Gramin) [PMAY-G], which offer incentive and subsidies to eligible beneficiaries from these underserved segments of the society. Since the large unmet demand for housing is unlikely to be met without adequate housing finance assistance, all such subsidies are being routed through formal financial institutions like Banks and Housing Finance Companies.

Your Company is uniquely positioned to help in addressing this crying social need because of the reach and more importantly, the knowledge your Company has acquired about the customer segment the Company serves. Your Company will continue to focus on serving the underserved rural customers and grow the business. In addition, your Company will now begin focusing on the affordable housing segment in smaller towns and cities as well, given the large market opportunity and its experience in serving customers with incomplete income documentation and no credit history. The Government's focus on this segment and the large unmet demand would combine to make this initiative develop into another growth engine for the Company.

b) Opportunities and Threats

Opportunities

- Large untapped market.
- Govt. thrust on housing.
- Improving rural infrastructure and budgetary support.
- Rising Consumer aspirations.

Threats

- Technology disruption.
- Competition/new entrants.

c) Segment-wise or product-wise performance

The Company does not have segments and operates only in one segment. The performance of the Company is covered above in the paragraph 'operations'.

d) Outlook

With the thrust of the Government on affordable housing and the ambitious target of 'housing for all by 2022', the outlook for the industry is buoyant. With the innate business strengths of the Company like Brand Image, Strong Balance Sheet, Reach, Customer base, trained and dedicated work force and insight of the market it serves, the Company is in a position to capitalize on favourable conditions and drive growth.

e) Risks and concerns

- Agriculture/Weather Cycle dependent.
- No or limited banking habits of customers.

f) Internal control systems and their adequacy

In addition to an adequate internal control system safeguarding all assets and ensuring operational excellence, the Company has a team of internal auditors who conduct internal audits. The internal audit reports are discussed with the management and reviewed by the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors. The Audit Committee also reviews the adequacy and effectiveness of the Company's internal control environment and monitors the implementation of audit recommendations. Independent audit firms ensure that all transactions are correctly authorized and reported. Wherever deemed necessary, internal control systems are strengthened and corrective actions initiated.

Annexure "B" to the Independent Auditor's Report 31 March 2018

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Mahindra Rural Housing Finance Limited (the "Company") as of 31 March 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's responsibility for internal financial controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, safeguarding of its assets, prevention and detection of frauds and errors, accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by the ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of internal financial controls over financial reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

The carrying value of assets/cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment. If any indication of impairment exists, the recoverable amount of such assets is estimated and impairment is recognised, if the carrying amount of these assets exceeds their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

1.17 Cash and cash equivalent

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with bank. The Company considers all highly liquid financial instruments, which are readily convertible into known amount of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and having original maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, to be cash equivalents.

Provisions are recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and there is a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements. However, contingent assets are assessed continually and if it is virtually certain that an economic benefit will arise, the asset and related income are recognized in the period in which the change occurs.

OPERATIONS

Your Company was incorporated with an objective to act as investment managers, consultants, advisors for mutual funds, unit trusts, venture capital funds, etc. On 4th February, 2016, your Company received license from the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) to act as an Investment Manager for the schemes of Mahindra Mutual Fund. During the financial year 2017-18, your Company launched the following two schemes in the market:

1. Mahindra Mutual Fund Badhat Yojana, Multi Cap Fund - An open ended equity scheme investing across large cap, mid cap, small cap stocks, launched on 20th April, 2017; and
2. Mahindra Unnati Emerging Business Yojana, Mid Cap Fund – An open ended equity scheme predominantly investing in mid cap stocks, launched on 8th January, 2018.

In addition, your Company also launched Mahindra Mutual Fund Bal Vikaas Yojana on 20th April, 2017. The Company was unable to collect the minimum amount of subscription in this scheme and hence the scheme was withdrawn. As on 31st March, 2018, your Company acted as the investment manager for six schemes. The Assets under Management in these six schemes were Rs. 3,352 crores in March 2018 as compared to Rs. 2,050 crores in the month of March 2017. Of these assets, Rs. 1,173 crores were in retail schemes in March, 2018 as compared to Rs 319 crores in March 2017. Your Company has empanelled more than 7,500 distributors and opened 1,26,737 investor accounts in these schemes showing a rise of more than 335 percent. During the next year, your Company will continue to expand its product range as well as increase its engagement activities with the distributors and customers via new offices and employees across the country.

Your Directors would like to present the overview of the Economy and Financial Markets in general and the Mutual Fund Industry in particular.

Indian Economy

The year 2017-18 witnessed two key events. The Goods and Services Tax ('GST') regime was implemented from 1st July, 2017 thus paving the way towards a `One Nation, One Tax' system. Further, a new Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code was notified which is expected to resolve the issues related to non-performing assets of the Banking system.

The second advance estimate of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) released by the Central Statistics Office in February 2018 estimated the real GDP growth at 6.60 percent (constant 2011-12 prices) in 2017-18 (7.10 percent in 2016-17). While the GDP growth was lower than last year, partly because of adjustments to the GST regime, there were silver linings on the horizon. Credit Growth started accelerating and after several quarters, investment activity showed some green shoots and the Gross Capital Formation (GCF) to GDP ratio inched up to 31.40 percent. Global economic activity has continued to strengthen and is becoming synchronized gradually.

Inflation measured by Consumer Price Index (CPI) remained benign, averaging around 3.50 percent during the year and the exchange rate measured against the US Dollar was broadly stable through the year.

The year also marked an upward movement in crude prices. Such movements, if they continue, could possibly endanger both inflation and growth expectations for the next financial year.

Equity Markets

The S&P BSE Sensex ended the year with gains of more than 11 percent to close at 32,968 while the NIFTY 50 closed with gains of more than 10 percent to close at 10,113. The S&P BSE mid cap index after rallying ahead of frontline indices for major part of the year closed at a commensurate gain of more than 12 percent during the year. Globally, majority of the equity indices did well.

The rally was led by infusion of liquidity by Domestic Institutional Investors (~USD 22bn) due to strong retail participation despite Foreign Institutional Investors being net sellers (~USD 1.4 bn). Majority of the sectors participated in the rally in the indices barring the pharmaceutical sector.

The year 2018-19 may see higher volatility in global equity markets due to rising global interest rates. India, despite its strong long term macro fundamentals, may also see volatility due to the upcoming elections.

Fixed Income Markets

The interest rate environment, which was benign in 2016-17, saw a sharp upward movement in rates. The benchmark sovereign 10-year rates, moved up by around 70 basis points to close at 7.35 percent. The year was marked by volatility as the bench mark saw a low of around 6.40 percent in the first half of the year and moved up to a high of around 7.80 percent during the later part of the fiscal year. What contributed to the upward bias was a combination of increase in fiscal deficit and rising crude and commodity prices resulted in increased inflationary expectations. The US Fed act of increasing the Fed rates and shrinking its balance sheet acted as headwinds to the interest rate environment.

Overview of the Mutual Fund Industry

The Mutual Fund Industry had another good year. The Assets under Management (AUM) as on 31st March, 2018, were Rs. 21.36 lakh crores compared to Rs. 17.54 lakh crores as on 31st March, 2018. Assets grew by 21.7 percent during the year.

Net flows into mutual funds during the year were Rs. 2.72 lakh crores showing a decline in net inflows over the previous year. However, the decline was mainly due to sharp reduction in inflows into debt and liquid schemes. Both these scheme classes actually witnessed a net outflow in assets. There was a surge in inflows in equity schemes. Equity schemes saw net inflows of Rs. 1.57 lakh crores which was more than 2.6 times of the inflows in the previous year. The popularity of balanced schemes continued with inflows growing more than 2.4 times last year and touching Rs 89,757 crores. Inflows into ELSS schemes also increased by 43 percent.

The top ten players increased their market share during this year. Their combined share of total assets increased to 81 percent from 74 percent last year.

During the year, SEBI issued the product classification guidelines, and requested all Asset Management Companies to review their product portfolio in accordance with these guidelines, and submit their rationalization proposal to SEBI. This circular had a minimal impact on your Company's products. Going forward, this will provide clarity to AMCs, distributors and customers and will allow them to have a better understanding of the different schemes offered by Mutual Funds.

The Mutual Fund Industry has been showing robust growth over the last five years. In spite of this growth, mutual fund penetration continues to remain low in terms of number of unique household accounts. Therefore, the potential for future growth is quite high and the industry will continue to attract new households from the smaller towns and cities as well as urban centres. Your Company aims to reach customers in the smaller towns by leveraging the Mahindra brand as well as distribution reach of its parent, Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Limited. Your Company will also leverage the traditional distributors of mutual fund products viz banks, national distributors as well as individual distributors to welcome new customers to the Mahindra family.

In this regard the Board would like to explain that, the remuneration payable to the MD & CEO was revised by the Members, at their Extraordinary General Meeting held on 17th October, 2016, upon the recommendation by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee and the approval of Board of Directors, as a “managerial person functioning in professional capacity” under the provisions of clause (B) of section II of part II of schedule V of the Companies Act, 2013 as the MD & CEO satisfied all the conditions mentioned therein for the managerial person functioning in professional capacity. However, in February, 2018, the MD & CEO acquired small number of shares of Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Limited (the Holding Company), acquiring interest in the Holding Company, and thus ceasing to comply with one of the conditions mentioned in the said clause (B). The Companies Amendment Act, 2017 has amended section 197 of the Companies Act, 2013, granting the power to waive the excess managerial remuneration paid to the shareholders and thus doing away with the approval of Central Government in this regard. However, the said amendment is pending notification in the official gazette. The MD & CEO shall hold the excess managerial remuneration paid in trust till the disposal of application by the Central Government or waiver of the same by the Shareholders under the provisions of section 197 of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended by the Companies Amendment Act, 2017 as and when notified, whichever is earlier.

ANNEXURE II TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF MAHINDRA ASSET MANAGEMENT COMPANY PRIVATE LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Mahindra Asset Management Company Private Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the period from April 1, 2017 to March 31, 2018.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that operate effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and, both issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

(1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;

(2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and

(3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by ICAI.

4. Operations

Your Company is engaged as a Trustee to Mahindra Mutual Fund and has appointed Mahindra Asset Management Company Private Limited as the Investment Manager for the schemes of Mahindra Mutual Fund.

During the financial year 2017-18, the AMC launched the following two schemes in the market:

1. Mahindra Mutual Fund Badhat Yojana, Multi Cap Fund - An open ended equity scheme investing across large cap, mid cap, small cap stocks, launched on April 20, 2017;
2. Mahindra Unnati Emerging Business Yojana, Mid Cap Fund – An open ended equity scheme predominantly investing in mid cap stocks, launched on January 8, 2018.

   In addition, the AMC also launched Mahindra Mutual Fund Bal Vikaas Yojana on April 20, 2017. The AMC was unable to collect the minimum amount of subscription in this scheme and hence the scheme was withdrawn. As on March 31, 2018, the AMC is acting as the investment manager for six schemes. The Assets under Management in these six schemes were Rs. 3,352 crores in March 2018 as compared to Rs 2,050 crores in the month of March 2017. Of these assets, Rs. 1,173 crores were in retail schemes in March 2018 as compared to Rs 319 crores in March 2017. The AMC has empanelled more than 7,500 distributors and opened 1,26,737 investor accounts in these schemes showing a rise of more than 235%. During the next year, the AMC will continue to expand its product range as well as increase its engagement activities with the distributors and customers via new offices and employees across the country. With the increase in assets under management of Mahindra Mutual Fund, your Company's trusteeship fees will also increase.

Your Directors would like to present the overview of the Economy and Financial Markets in general and the Mutual Fund Industry in particular.

Indian Economy

The year 2017-18 witnessed two key events. The Goods and Services Tax ('GST') was implemented from July 1, 2017 thus paving the way towards a 'One Nation, One Tax' system. Further, a new Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code was notified which is expected to resolve the issues related to non-performing assets of the Banking system.

The second advance estimate of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) released by the Central Statistics Office in February 2018 estimated the real GDP growth at 6.60 percent (constant 2011-12 prices) in 2017-18 (7.10 percent in 2016-17). While the GDP growth was lower than last year, partly because of adjustments to the GST regime, there were silver linings on the horizon. Credit Growth started accelerating and after several quarters, investment activity showed some green shoots and the Gross Capital Formation (GCF) to GDP ratio inched up to 31.40%. Global economic activity has continued to strengthen and is becoming synchronized gradually.

Inflation measured by Consumer Price Index (CPI) remained benign, averaging around 3.50% during the year and the exchange rate measured against the US Dollar was broadly stable through the year.

The year also marked an upward movement in crude prices. Such movements, if they continue, could possibly endanger both inflation and growth expectations for the next financial year.

Equity Markets

The S&P BSE Sensex ended the year with gains of more than 11% to close at 32,968 while the NIFTY 50 closed with gains of more than 10% to close at 10,113. The S&P BSE mid cap index after rallying ahead of frontline indices for major part of the year closed at a commensurate gain of more than 12% during the year. Globally majority of the equity indices did well.

The rally was led by infusion of liquidity by Domestic Institutional Investors (~USD 22bn) due to strong retail participation despite Foreign Institutional Investors being net sellers (~USD 1.4bn). Majority of the sectors participated in the rally in the indices barring the pharmaceutical sector.

The year 2018-19 may see higher volatility in global equity markets due to rising global interest rates. India, despite its strong long term macro fundamentals, may also see high volatility due to the upcoming elections.

Fixed Income Markets

The interest rate environment, which was benign in 2016-17, saw a sharp upward movement in rates. The benchmark sovereign 10-year rates, moved up by around 70 basis points to close at 7.35%. The year was marked by volatility as the bench mark saw a low of around 6.40% in the first half of the year and moved up to a high of around 7.80% during the latter part of the fiscal year. What contributed to the upward bias was a combination of increase in fiscal deficit and rising crude and commodity prices resulted in increased inflationary expectations. The US Fed act of increasing the Fed rates and shrinking its balance sheet acted as headwinds to the interest rate environment.

Overview of the Mutual Fund Industry

The Mutual Fund Industry had another good year. The Assets under Management (AUM) as on March 31, 2018 were Rs. 21.36 lakh crores compared to Rs. 17.54 lakh crores as on March 31, 2017. Assets grew by 21.7 percent during the year.

Net inflows into mutual funds during the year were Rs. 2.72 lakh crores showing a decline over net inflows over the previous year. However, the decline was mainly due to sharp reduction in inflows into debt and liquid schemes. Both these scheme classes actually witnessed a net outflow in assets. There was a surge in inflows in equity schemes. Equity schemes saw net inflows of Rs 1.57 lakh crores which was more than 2.6 times of the inflows in the previous year. The popularity of balanced schemes continued with inflows growing more than 2.4 times last year and touching Rs 89,757 crores. Inflows into ELSS schemes also increased by 43%.

The top ten players increased their market share during this year. Their combined share of total assets increased to 81% from 74% last year.

During the year, SEBI issued the product classification guidelines and requested all Asset Management Companies to review their product portfolio in accordance with these guidelines and submit their rationalization proposal to SEBI. This circular had a minimal impact on your Company's products. Going forward, this provides clarity to AMCs, distributors and customers and allows them to have a better understanding of the different schemes offered by Mutual Funds.

The Mutual Fund Industry has been showing robust growth over the last five years. In spite of this growth, mutual fund penetration continues to remain low in terms of number of unique household accounts. Therefore, the potential for future growth is quite high and the industry will continue to attract new households from the smaller towns and cities as well as urban centres. Your Company aims to reach customers in the smaller towns by leveraging the Mahindra brand as well as distribution reach of its parent, Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Limited. Your Company will also leverage the traditional distributors of mutual fund products viz banks, national distributors as well as individual distributors to welcome new customers to the Mahindra family.

5. Share Capital

During the year under review, the Company has neither issued shares with differential voting rights as to dividend, voting or otherwise nor has issued any sweat equity. ANNEXURE II TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF MAHINDRA TRUSTEE COMPANY PRIVATE LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Mahindra Trustee Company Private Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the period from April 1, 2017 to March 31, 2018.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that operate effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and, both issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

(1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;

(2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and

(3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by ICAI.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2018

CORPORATE INFORMATION

Mahindra Trustee Company Private Limited ('the Company') was incorporated under the Companies Act, 1956 on July 10, 2013. The Company is a subsidiary of Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services Ltd. The Company is incorporated to function as a Trustee to Mahindra Mutual Fund and has been granted a license by SEBI to act as a Trustee. The Company has entered into an Investment Management Agreement with Mahindra Asset Management Company Private Limited ('Investment Manager') for managing the schemes of Mahindra Mutual Fund.

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES :

1. Basis of preparation of financial statements

   The financial statements have been prepared and presented in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (IGAAP) under the historical cost convention as a going concern and on an accrual basis and in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Accounting Standards notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 7 of the Company's (Accounts) Rules 2014 and other accounting principles generally accepted in India to the extent applicable.

2. Current and Non-current classification

   All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non–current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of services and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose.

3. Use of estimates

   The preparation of financial statements requires the management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) as on the date of the financial statements and the reported income and expenses during the reporting year. Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in future years.

4. Segment reporting

   The Company has a single reporting segment viz income from trustee services provided to the schemes of Mahindra Mutual Fund. Accordingly, for the purpose of Accounting Standard 17 on segment reporting, the financial statements of the Company show the results of the Company for this single segment only.

5. Investments

   Investments held as Long –Term Investments are stated at cost comprising of acquisition and incidental expenses less permanent diminution in value, if any. Investments other than Long Term investments are classified as current Investments and valued at cost or fair value, whichever is less.

   Provision for diminution in value of investments is made if management perceives that there is permanent diminution in the value of investments in accordance with the Accounting Standard on 'Accounting for Investments' (AS 13) notified by Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006.

6. Revenue recognition

Deferred tax is recognised, subject to consideration of prudence, on timing differences, being the difference between taxable incomes and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets arising on account of unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of tax losses are recognised only to the extent that there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future tax income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

9. Provisions and contingent liabilities

   a) Provision for doubtful debts is made on the basis of standard norms and also, where required, on actual evaluation.

   b) Provisions are recognised in accounts in respect of present probable obligations, the amount of which can be reliably estimated. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in respect of possible obligations that arise from past events but their existence is confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the company.

10. Earnings per share

    Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit for the period after deducting preference dividends and any attributable tax thereto for the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, sub-division of shares, etc that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without corresponding change in resources. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average numbers of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Therefore, dividend declared will be distributed amongst all shareholders, based on their shareholding on the record date.

Dividends will generally be recommended by the Board once a year, after the announcement of the full year results and before the Annual General Meeting (AGM) of the shareholders, out of the profits of the Company for current year or out of profits of the Company for any previous financial years or out of both, as may be permitted under the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act").

  4. Applicable taxes including tax on dividend,
  5. Industry outlook for the future years,
  6. Inflation rate, and
  7. Changes in the Government policies, industry specific rulings & regulatory provisions.

Apart from the above, the Board also considers past dividend history and sense of shareholders' expectations while determining the rate of dividend. The Board may additionally recommend special dividend in special circumstances.

The Board may consider not declaring dividend or may recommend a lower payout for a given financial year, after analyzing the prospective opportunities and threats or in the event of challenging circumstances such as regulatory and financial environment. In such an event, the Board will provide rationale in the Annual Report.
